TO GATHER IN GOLD.

Arrangements Are Being Made for Bringing Back the Metal.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Aug 19—It is stated that effective measures will be taken by the Exchange Syndicate to secure the importation of a large amount of gold variously estimated at $20,000,000 to $25,000,000.

Wall street continues to attach special significance to the London quotations accordingly a lower market for Americans at London resulted in fractional declines here, sugar and Burlington displaying the greatest heaviness and scoring declines of 3-4 per cent each

Reports of further demoralization in traffic rates precipitated selling railway shares in which grangers suffered most severely Acute weakness was also evident in some specialities, sugar receding to 103, Manhattan to 74 1-2. A jump of 5 per cent to 80, in Louisville & Nashville and New Albany consols attracted attention in view of the decline of a similar amount yesterday

Silver is 65 3-4 and lead 2 60

The market rallied on further reductions in sterling exchange. Covering by shorts also contributed toward higher figures, sugar making an extreme gain of a point to 104 Lead preferred displayed exceptional weakness, receding 3 3-4 to 76 1-2.

The stock market began advancing sharply, soon after midday, upon the report that Lazard Freres have made arrangements to import $3,000,000 gold by the steamer leaving London next Saturday. It is claimed that at current rates of exchange the transaction cannot be made without a loss.

The weakness of the Exchange market is attributed to offerings of syndicate bills

BROWN IN HOT WATER

Mattie Overman's Confession Is Starting More Trouble.

THE LETTER IS IN OAKLAND.

Dr. McLean Says It Will Be Kept Secret at Present.

DR. MOGAR HAS IT NOW.

It Is Believed That It Implicates More People.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19—Rev. C. O. Brown, the San Francisco minister, whom the alleged confession of Mattie Overman has again brought into prominence, has been boarding at 437 South Leavitt street, but could not be found there today.

The landlady said he left a few days ago to visit relatives, but would return as soon as Dr Blanchard, his cousin, returned from Detroit.

Telegraphic inquiries elicit the information that Dr. Brown is not at either Kalamazoo or Dubuque.

THE CONFESSION HERE.

A Desire to Keep It From the Public for the Present.

Mattie Overman has brought out a fresh sensation in the celebrated Brown scandal case. She has handed to the Rev. Mr. Brown's colleagues her fourth statement and this time makes charges of a specific nature such as cannot very well be overlooked by the Ecclesiastical Council.

In the statement she retracts everything she has said in defense of the pastor and accuses him of immoral conduct, joining her own name with his. She further states that Brown paid her expenses to keep her out of the country and that she lied at the trials.

The letter has been digested by members of the Bay Conference and it is said the trial will again be re-opened with the view of ousting the erring pastor from the ministry.

According to statements Dr. McLean was supposed to have the letter in his pocket. When called on today by a Tribune man the clergyman emphatically denied this.

"It is a mistake," he said, "I have not the letter in my possession; Mr. Soudder of Alameda, has the document"

"Regards calling the Council together again I have heard nothing except what has been published in the papers. I don't think the Council will convene to consider the matter but I cannot say positively.

"No, I do not think there is a possibility of the public seeing that letter. There is much in it which is entirely irrelevant to the case in hand and many statements in which the public will not be interested

"I am certain that if I had charge of the document I would not give out its contents and I do not think Mr. Scudder will."

Further than this Dr. McLean would not discuss the subject though he was sure nothing had been said to him regarding another meeting of the Council.

WHAT SCUDDER SAYS.

Dr Scudder was seen in Alameda this afternon by a Tribune man and in response to a request for the letter said: "I have handed it to Dr Moar to give to Dr McLean. I do not think he will give it up until he finishes an investigation regarding it"

SNOW SEEKS ADVICE.

The City Assessor Does Not Like the Bank Situation.

City Assessor Snow is in a quandary over the resolutions of instructions passed last night by the City Board of Equalization ordering him to assess National Bank stock and the loans of other banks on stocks and bonds and the franchises of all banks. The question to him resolves itself into the query "Am I the Assessor or a ministerial clerk to the Board of Equalization."

Dalton, Snow says is the bell wether who leads the council flock. Whether or not the (Snow) will follow in their wake is a question on which he will take legal counsel.

"To my mind," said the City Assessor this morning, "the Council acted contrary to the evidence and legal advice which was given it last night. It is merely a case of threshing old straw. The people have just learned that something is not being assessed and the Council says tax it, put it on the rolls anyhow There may be no law for this but that makes no difference It will encumber the rolls and will do no good We cannot base an estimate on its collection. C E. Palmer last night stated that he did not ever expect to pay the tax and the City Attorney advised that we could not collect a tax on bank loans on stocks and bonds. There is no time for me to make the addition so I suppose I have unlimited time. With me, however, it is merely a legal matter and I shall take the advice of attorneys before I do anything At present my mind is not made up as to what course I shall pursue."

Mrs. McBean Worse.

Mrs. Alexander McBean of 217 Durant street who was thrown from her carriage against a stone wall some time ago, has suffered a relapse and is now in a very critical condition. She was injured internally and her recovery is extremely doubtful. Two physicians are in consultation today.

RALSTON--BULLITT.

Society Gathers at a Big Wedding at High Noon.

BISHOP NICHOLS CELEBRATES.

A Charming Reception Held Afterwards at the House.

EXQUISITE DECORATIONS.

The Event Is One of the Most Notable of the Season.

The marriage of Miss Claire Ralston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ralston, and Dr James Bell Bullitt of Louisville, Kentucky, occurred this morning in St. Paul's Church. It was the occasion of an unusually brilliant assemblage. The little church, which has been the scene of so many fashionable weddings, was crowded today with well known society people of Oakland and San Francisco.

The church was transformed into a tropical bower. The chancel and altar were trimmed with palms. The altar railing was completely hidden beneath delicate ferns. The columns of the church were twined with feathery green ferns. No color was used, and the white and gold altar cloths gleamed brightly from among the green foliage.

The church was crowded fully a half hour before noon, the hour set for the ceremony. During this time, music was furnished by William King, who was the organist for the occasion.

Promptly at noon the melodious strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" rang out, and the bridal party entered the church The ushers, Messrs. Selby, Campbell, Hayne, Brayton, Wilson, Blanchard entered first. The groom followed, supported by his best man, Louis Ralston Two little tots, clad in white, little Master Atherton of Menlo Park and little Miss Selby, came next, carrying huge bouquets of white carnations and smilax.

Next came the bride's maids, the Misses Selby, De Fremery, Wells, Walker and Watts. The maid of honor, Miss Mae Austin of Stockton, walked behind them.

The bride entered last, leaning on the arm of her father. The groom met them at the chancel rail, where Rev. Robert Ritchie performed the betrothal services. At the conclusion of this ceremony, the bride and groom advanced to the altar, where Bishop Nichols performed the solemn and impressive marriage service.

The scene was an unusually beautiful one. The delicate gowns of the bride and her attendant maids against the dark green background of ferns and palms, formed a picture of exquisite beauty. Beneath the overhanging palms, within the altar rail, stood the Bishop in his rich robes. A flood of sunshine filled the edifice, lighting up the brilliant gowns of the women.

The pretty bride looked very lovely in an elegant gown of rich white satin, made very simply. The bodice was plain, the long wrinkled sleeves had small puffs on the shoulder. Her long tulle veil, falling to the hem of her gown, was fastened by a delicate wreath of orange blossoms.

The bridesmaid's gowns were made in a style similar to the bride's. They were of palé green satin, with an overdress of delicate mousselaine de soie. High stock collars of satin were worn. The bridesmaids wore picture hats of white leghorn, daintily trimmed with chiffon, green satin ribbon and green aigrettes.

Mrs Ralston wore a handsome gown of heavy ribbed silk, with a front of chiffon and jet. The women present wore gowns of much richness and beauty.

Directly after the ceremony a reception was held at the handsome Ralston home at 1110 Madison street The decorations of the house were exquisite.

The bridal party received in a bower of ferns and palms, relieved by La France roses and pink amaryllis This color scheme was carried out in the decorations of all the reception rooms In the hall, the decorations were in blue and gold, bachelor buttons and golden rod making an effect gorgeous and striking in the extreme.

Later in the day, Dr and Mrs. Bullitt will leave for the East, where their future home will be Among the many guests present were Mrs. and Miss Requa, Mrs H A. ATTACKING THE MARSH.

The West Oaklanders Will Keep Their Case in Evidence.

A Rousing Meeting Held Last Night of the Improvement Club.

The West Oakland Improvement Club held an enthusiastic and well attended meeting last night at Hansen's Hall President George J. W. Stark wielded the gavel and Charles L. Wines officiated as Secretary

A communication was read from the Non Partisan members of the City Council stating their inability to attend owing to a meeting of the City Board of Equalization of which they are ex-officio members.

William Walsh and G W. Drake of the Marsh Committee reported progress.

The park proposition was then taken up Giles H Gray suggested that the Club insist upon the members of the Council carrying out the promises in said regard made before their election and Gray desired that the Councilmen appear before the Club and talk the matter over

C H Redington agreed with Mr Gray and thought that it would be a very wise idea to get the City Fathers interested in the matter

G H Garthorne stated that many gentlemen who had been against the park have since told him that they now favor the proposition We are not, said Mr Garthorne, 'asking the Council for other sections of the city but we certainly want something done for West Oakland Six members of the Council will stand with us and I don t believe for a moment that the Mayor will enter a veto to a measure favoring a park for this section Councilman Kaufman, the Mayor's representative stated the feelings of the Mayor regarding this matter the other evening It is not necessary for us to ask the cooperation of up-town organizations as we already have their sympathy. What we want is an appropriation."

George Stanley said that in an interview with Councilman Mott that gentleman stated that the Mayor once vetoed a council measure appropriating $5000 for a park in West Oakland Mr Garthorne said that if the Council is sincere it could have the $5,000 but it has not done so. "We have nothing to thank any body for at present" stated Mr Garthorne We have so far accomplished every thing for ourselves We are not alone working for the First Ward but also for all Oakland west of Market street"

Attorney H D. Talcott was next introduced and he said that new arrivals seeing such an unsightly marsh as that at Sixteenth street depot would pass Oakland by "I claim," said Colonel Talcott "that citizens have a right to a breathing place You have carried your point so far in securing the filling of the depression at the foot of Twelfth street and by earnest efforts you will still further succeed

Supervisor W. S Pelouze declared himself as heartily in favor of the park and expressed himself as in sympathy with the work of the Club Mr Pelouze said that whenever an opportunity presents itself wherein he can assist the Club he will gladly do so.

W. J O'Connell thought the Mayor will do all he can for West Oakland

John C Bullock assured the Club that he would call together the Committee of the old West Oakland Improvement Association and have the money now in bank to the credit of the old Club transferred to the credit of the present organization to be used for park purposes

A committee consisting of W. W Morrison, Louis Huffschmidt and J C. Bullock was appointed to wait on the District Attorney and ascertain whether the Board of Supervisors had authority under the State Immigration laws to make an appropriation for the West Oakland Park

The Club then adjourned till next Tuesday night when it is expected that the Councilmen will be present

Among those present at last night's meeting were the following well known West Oaklanders G H Garthorne, C H Reddington, Supervisor W S Pelouze Colonel H D Talcott, Henry W Watkins, Daniel Robertson, E A Scheerline W W Morrison, Charles G Yale, Giles H Gray, John H Bruning William Christen G W. A HIGH SCHOOL RUSH.

The Senior Classes Come Together in a Slight Scrimmage.

The two senior classes of the Oakland High School had a rush today that was nipped in the bud by Principal McChesney. Otherwise the results might have been disastrous, as the low seniors out number the high seniors half a dozen times.

The trouble began at a meeting of the lower class last night. The high seniors attended the meeting five strong, and although there were thirty '97 men they failed in their attempt to eject the stubborn five The latter succeeded in breaking up the meeting, and, incidentally, in stirring up a lot of bitter feeling.

After the meeting the low seniors put up a flag, bearing the class figures on a telegraph pole opposite the High School building.

Today at noon the half dozen members of the '96 class began pelting the emblem with rocks, and were immediately charged upon by their opponents.

Havoc reigned for a while and then the stalwart form of Principal McChesney hove in sight and bore down upon the squirming mass of students. Peace was soon restored, and then, under the protection of the Principal Hoffman and Champrieu of the higher class ascended the pole and triumphantly brought down the shattered emblem.

Both classes say this is not the end of the trouble, by any means, and that they will fight the thing out to the end.

A CASE OF BIAS.

Family Troubles Are Satisfactorily Settled by Mrs. Prescott.

Mrs Prescott of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children this morning, after a ward war and a threatened arrest, settled the differences between J. A Bias and his wife, who have been living apart for about a month, and whose children are in Mrs. Prescott's custody

Bias, according to his story, left his home at 878 Lydia street in July because of trouble with his wife She took the matter philosophically, turned the children over to charity and sold the furniture The father wanted to get half of the proceeds of the sale for the children and this morning the mother consented to give it up.

A pleasing feature of the decorations in the club room was the presence of portraits of the National candidates.

The club will meet again next Tuesday evening at half-past 7 o'clock, when besides excellent speeches, a musical programme of merit will be listened to At that time, also a proposition will be considered relative to holding a big rally in Montana Hall, Seventh and Adeline streets, during the week If this is decided upon, ladies will be invited to attend and an excellent political entertainment will be afforded.

A BIG SALE.

Valuable Lands Throughout the County in the Sheriff's Hands.

One of the important sales of realty under foreclosure which has taken place in this county in a long time was conducted by Under Sheriff Barlow, acting as Commissioner today

The property included 82.77 acres in Rancho La Polas near Livermore, 31 50 acres in Rancho Diablo; 6 acres in connection with the Livermore Collegiate Institute in Livermore, another tract of 4 acres in the same vicinity, and two other parcels containing respectively 640 acres and 322.12 acres, making a grand total of 1,085 12 acres. The property was bid in by the Bank of Livermore for $25,053.07.

This sale brings to a close the tedious settlement of the affairs between the bank in question and J. D. Smith, formerly principal of the Livermore College and more recently of the Livermore public school; who, at one time, cultivated many of the acres which have now passed out of his possession.

Profits divided with customers who go direct to their stores in the plan of operation of the Great American Importing Tea Company; whose four big stores are at present offering such unprecedented bargains.

BROUGHT UP TO PLEA.

A Number of Noted Cases Come Before Judge Greene.

Prospects for a Stipulation in the Auditor Whidden Matter.

Myron Whidden, County Auditor, was to have been arraigned this morning on the charges of embezzling funds of the Tax Collector's office and the mutilation of records but the matter was continued until Wednesday next

When the defendant appeared, Judge Greene said to A A. Moore, the attorney for Whidden, that there are a number of indictments pending against the defendant, and he desired to know whether or not the matter could be expedited by stipulation

Mr. Moore said he would ask for a week's continuance to plead, and in that time he would be able to examine the bills.

Mr. Moore's wishes were acceded to.

Previously to this disposition of the latest charges against Mr. Whidden, there was a continuance of a week granted a so in the matter of the bill or exceptions in behalf of Whidden, growing out of the trial of the charges made against him by the Grand Jury preceding the last.

It will be remembered that the indictments returned against Whidden at the time were knocked out, and the court ordered the matter re-submitted to the Grand Jury which has just adjourned To this action on the part of the court, exception was taken by the defendant's attorney, who held that the second last Grand Jury had no legal existence because of the insanity of one of the members who composed it

The amendments to this bill of exceptions have not as yet been agreed to, but it is expected that the matter will be settled inside of a week If the appeal should be sustained by the Supreme Court, it would invalidate all of the recent indictments which were returned against the defendant by the first Grand Jury There were two more indictments, however returned against Whidden by the later Grand Jury than there were by the first jury, and these would not be affected by the affirmative action of the Supreme Court on the questions on the appeal.

The same disposition in the matter of the amendments to the bill of exceptions in the Menzenmeyer case was made as above referred to in the Whidden case

Edward Kaley and John Martin, charged with destroying parts of the County Jail to facilitate their escape therefrom, about two months ago, pleaded not guilty to the offense, as also to prior convictions against them. They reserved the privilege, however, of withdrawing the plea later

The Anderson case, in which the defendant is accused of attempting to rob a man named Omella, was continued till Wednesday next.

Robert Sternitzky, charged with assaulting A Semenza, was given one week in which to plead

NOBODY WAS TO BLAME.

Investigation of the Cause of the Isolde's Wreck.

The Commander of the Britannia Talks of Errors of Judgment.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

RYDE, Isle of Wight, Aug 19—An inquest was held today upon the remains of Baron Moritz Curt Von Zedwitz, the German yachtsman killed yesterday in a collision between Emperor William's yacht Meteor and Zedwitz's yacht Isolde.

The commander of the Britannia expressed the opinion that the Meteor ought to have given the Isolde a wider berth, and thought there had been an error in judgment.

Captain Gomez of the Meteor denied having infringed the rules, and said there would have been plenty of room to pass had not the Saint struck the Isolde and shoved the latter out of her course, and across the bow of the Meteor

The collision with the Isolde could not be avoided except by colliding with the Britannia, which, he explained would have resulted in a far more serious smash up

The jury rendered a verdict of nobody to blame.

MITCHELL'S MOVE.

The License Collector Talks About the Exposition Matter.

License Collector Mitchell feels that he has received undue censure for his act in serving upon the Directors of the Exposition a notice for them to pay a license He wholly denies the statement of Superintendent Cragie Sharpe who said that the whole business was spite work Mitchell also repudiates the charges that it was the doings of the Merchants' Exchange because the Exposition is being conducted by Sharpe, the Secretary of the Board of Trade

"I only carried out the instructions of the Treasurer's office in serving the notice," said Mitchell, "and as it had to be done under the ordinance, I do not see where anyone can find grounds for saying that spite or personal feeling entered into the affair Some time ago I spoke to the Exposition Directors about a license which would only cost $10 They seemed to think that they should not pay one and I told them that the Auditor was the only person who could issue a free license in such cases They did not go to him but instead paid the license yesterday afternoon I am not a member of the Merchants' Exchange and if I were it would make no difference. I served a notice which was given me by the License Collector to serve, nothing more or less"

An Estate in Dispute.

Phineas F Marston Jr has commenced a contest of the will of the late Phineas F. Marston, alleging that for some time prior to his death and at the time he made the will, deceased was mentally incompetent to manage his property, and that his person and estate were under the charge of a guardian. The will in question leaves to the widow and two of the children, Mrs Heald and Frank A. Marston, each one-fourth of the estate, and the other fourth to Frank A. Marston, in trust for the contestant. The estate is worth $50,000

Valley Road Bonds.

The Valley Road Directors have at last completed the preliminary arrangements necessary for the proposed issue of $6,000,000 worth of bonds for extensions. DOUBTS NANSEN'S STORY.

Lieut. Brainard Is Skeptical About the Arctic Adventures.

He Talks of "Lamentable Ignorance" on the Part of the Explorer.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

FORT RILEY, Kan, Aug 19—Lieut. D. L Brainard, of the Second Cavalry, who accompanied General Greely on his famous Arctic expedition and was with that officer in the most hazardous of his exploit, is rather skeptical as to the value of Dr Nansen's discoveries.

In conversation with a reporter, Lieut. Brainard said. "The information contained in the accounts of Nansen's return is so meagre that I hesitate to express an opinion as to the scope and value of his work.

"I will say, however, that the report of the return of the Jackson-Harmsworth relief vessel Windward from Franz Josef land within a month from the time of her departure from England would seem to admit of grave doubts as to the truth of the story, as the Windward could not reasonably be expected to reach her destination and return short of ten to twelve weeks.

"If the reports prove true, and Nansen is returning, then his journey has indeed been wonderful and he deserves the applause of the scientific world for the pluck and energy displayed by him under most trying and discouraging circumstances.

"So far as I can recall, no Arctic authority except one treated Nansen's plan of reaching the North Pole as a sane and feasible one.

"To push the Fram north of the New Siberian Islands into the icy seas from which no vessel had ever escaped the clutches of the Polar pack, was regarded by those having a knowledge of the subject as hazardous in the extreme—almost the work of a madman—and few expected Nansen ever to return alive; and I doubt if there was any who believed it possible for the Fram to long escape being crushed in the massive ice of that region

"The safe return of Nansen and the Fram, however, will not change in the slightest degree the opinion of experts that Nansen's novel plan of drifting to the North Pole was foolhardy, senseless and that he displayed lamentable ignorance of the dangers lurking in the treacherous ice pack."

OUSTING HER RELATIVES.

Aged and Sick Women to Be Driven From Their Home.

A Remarkable State of Affairs in the Matthews' Case.

The suit which is now pending in the Superior Court entitled Mrs. Rose Matthews vs R. T. Matthews, Mrs M Matthews and J. S Matthews is bound to attract considerable attention, because it involves a number of points which are not usually brought up in such cases.

It is a suit in ejectment and, though the plaintiff is a woman, the defendants assert that, behind her is her husband, Wickliffe Matthews, the San Francisco attorney, who resides at 1033 Magnolia street in this city The defendants also say that the house from which the ejectment is sought as the property of Wickliffe Matthews, although for the purposes of this suit he transferred the place to his wife a short time before this suit began.

The first of the defendants mentioned is the only sister of Mr Matthews who is an invalid, the next is the mother of Mr Matthews, who is 76 years of age, and the last of the defendants is a brother, who is in no way involved in the misunderstanding.

The defendants claim that Wickliffe Matthews is indebted to R T Matthews in the sum of between $500 and $600 for books clothing office furniture, education and money advanced, which he refuses to pay, because of its being outlawed

All the defendants asked was to be permitted to remain in the house of the son and brother until the rental should have cancelled the indebtedness referred to. This Mr Matthews has declined to do, as shown above, although he asserts that he is a rich man, being worth at least $50,000. Another feature of the case is that the defendants are not alone sued for possession of the premises, but also for $200 damages and the fees of Mrs Matthews' attorney, because Matthews himself hired some other person to prosecute the suit, but at the same time, Matthews appeared and argued the demurrer in the case

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug 19—There was a large attendance in the Convention Hall at the opening of the nineteenth annual meeting of the American Bar Association today.

When Lord Russell, Sir Francis Lockwood and Montague Crackenthorpe, together with their ladies, entered the hall, they were greeted with hearty applause.

President Storey called the Association to order and delivered his address.

President Storey's address was largely devoted to the subject of railroad re-organization, showing how receiverships have been unjust to the interests of creditors.

Blewett Lee, of the Northwestern University, Chicago, read a paper on "Teaching Practice in Law Schools."

UP FOR PERJURY.

The Examination of Martinell Starts Before Judge Greene.

The case of E Martinell, charged with perjury, came up for trial before Judge Greene today. The defendant is accused of having sworn that Ella Renner, to marry whom he sought a marriage license, had attained her 18th year. The couple were subsequently married, and this annoyed the bride's sister, who had Martinell arrested on the ground that he had perjured himself, knowing that her sister was not 18 years of age

Martinell is deformed and as he sat beside his counsel his head scarcely appeared above the back of his chair The defendant was accompanied by his bride, who is rather a pretty girl.

Deputy County Clerk Ca Ewing, who issued the license at the instance of both Martinell and his bride, testified that the defendant had sworn that his bride prospective was 18 years of age and signed his name to the affidavit At the time, Mr. Ewing said, the prospective bride stood beside her lover at the desk and made no remonstrance to her age.

For the defendant other witnesses testified that the girl herself swore that she was 18 years of age.

The jury after being out a short time, returned a verdict of not guilty.

STOPPED THE FISH.

Henry Hograff to Be Arrested for Violating the Rules.

Game Warden Donovan of San Leandro secured a warrant this morning in the District Attorney's office for the arrest of Henry Hograff on the charge of violating the fish and game laws. It is alleged that Hograff has built a dam sixty feet wide and nine feet high across the creek in Crow Canyon, near Hayward's, which prevents fish from ascending the stream to spawn

The fish laws requires where dams are built across creeks that there shall be supplied, reaching from the top of the dam to the water below the dam, a fish ladder of approved design which shall enable the fish to ascend and descend the stream over the dam at will The length of such ladder is to be six feet for every foot in the height of the dam, which, in this instance would require a ladder to be fifty-four feet in length. Donovan says that although Hograff has been repeatedly instructed to comply with the law in this respect, he has defied both the law and the officers. Hograff, he says, has put in the dam a contrivance of his own which neither complies with the law nor does what the law contemplates shall be done by means of a fish ladder.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SACRAMENTO, July 9, 1896.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-first session, beginning on the seventh day of January, A. D. 1895, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following prescribed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

Amendment Number One.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.)

ARTICLE XIII.

Section 1. All property in the State not exempt under the laws of the United States, or this Constitution, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law. The word "property" as used in this article and section is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State, or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Section 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Section 3. Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Amendment Number Two.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 3.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 6. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law; provided, that secrecy in voting be observed.

Amendment Number Three.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 3. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association; and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof, on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint stock association during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

Amendment Number Four.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs, shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

Amendment Number Five.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 12.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 5½ It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1 For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards

3. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such Boards, and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation, and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies.

Amendment Number Six

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law; provided, no native of China, no idiot, insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect.

NOW, THEREFORE, Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, and an Act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for the submission of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A. D. 1893, the said amendments are submitted, to be separately voted upon by ballot by the qualified electors of the State on

SPAIN CALLED TO TIME.

Indignities Heaped on Two Seamen by Weyler's Forces.

Legal Proceedings Instituted and Full Redress is Demanded.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Alexander Porter Morse, one of the best international lawyers in this country, has filed an important brief with the State Department touching upon the rights of American citizens in Cuba and charging the Spanish administrative authorities with bad faith and duplicity toward representatives of the United States.

Mr. Morse is acting as counsel for Gustav Richelieu. On the brief filed he will base a claim against Spain for damages for Richelieu's arrest and imprisonment by Spanish authorities.

The brief is especially important because it applies equally to all Americans who have already or may in the future suffer arrest in Cuba. Mr Morse, who is familiar with the law of nations, goes exhaustively into the law and precedents to prove his case

The case of Richelieu is thus briefly set forth:

"A fishing smack bound from one Haytian port to another, bearing two half-starved seamen, entitled to the protection of the United States, is forced by stress of weather and lack of food into a Cuban port.

They at once report to the captain of the port, produce their papers for inspection, explain their distressing situation, and request to be directed to the United States Consul. Instead of complying with this request their boat was seized and without arraignment or service of judicial process, they were placed under guard, conveyed to prison and locked up.

They asked to be conducted to the office of the United States Consul, but instead of being directed there they were sent under guard to prison, notwithstanding their earnest protest.

Here they were confined in a loathsome prison in company of the lowest description of criminals for sixty-two days, under circumstances of indignity and outrage on the part of the Spanish authorities, which are detailed in the memorials on file in the Department of State.

The United States Consul made earnest and repeated efforts to secure their release, but his efforts were of no avail until after the lapse of long imprisonment, mentioned.

The complainants have consistently protested that neither during the times mentioned, nor at any other time or place, have they engaged in what is called a filibustering expedition against the Spanish Government, nor have they in any way taken part in any revolutionary movement in Cuba or elsewhere.

And no testimony or proof was produced by Spain during their long imprisonment showing or tending to show that they had at any time or place engaged in such unlawful acts.

CATTLE BLINDED.

A Remarkable Disease Breaks Out at Ottawa, Illinois.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 19.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Ottawa, Ill., says.

Farmers in Brookfield Township just south of Marseilles are greatly exercised over a new disease which has broken out there.

The disease has spread in three herds of over 100, and many of the animals are hopelessly blind and others rapidly losing their sight.

Dr. Bemis, an Ottawa veterinary, who was called to see them, can find nothing in the authorities defining the disease which in each case affects the pupil of the eye.

It may be necessary to have all the affected cattle killed to prevent the spread of the peculiar malady.

A Sweeping Decision.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DES MOINES, Aug. 19.—Judge Woolson has handed down an opinion in the Federal Court in the case of Levy vs. the City of Newton that affects nearly every city of the second class in the State. He decides that perpetual franchises granted corporations by cities prior to the passage of the law in 1887 granting from this express authority are valid. The Newton City Council tried to revoke a franchise granted in 1887 on the ground that the old Council exceeded its power.

The Heat in Arizona.

"I have heard a good deal of complaint of the heat since I have been in Washington," said R. A. Reynolds of Yuma, Ariz. "The people of this city cannot realize how hot it gets in southwestern Arizona. Cattle die in great numbers, and it is almost impossible for human beings to live there during the summer months. Some extravagant stories are told about the effects of the heat, and I have read of frying eggs in the sand out there. Of course, they do nothing of the kind, but I know an egg story that is true that is nearly as remarkable. I was camping out on the desert, and among our provisions were some eggs. Being suspicious of their condition we did not cook them and did not happen to throw them away. Just left them in the tent. One day I heard a chirping and upon investigation found that more than half the eggs had hatched."—Washington Star.

Americans Wasteful People.

Col. Waring of the street cleaning commission in New York, has found upon investigation that material that sells on an average for $700,000,000 every year is carried to the dumps In the first place there are thrown away 256,000 pounds of rags every week worth 60 cents per 100 pounds, an item aggregating $73,632 a year. There are besides 45,000 pounds of grease per week, worth $1.10 per 100 pounds, and figuring a value of $ 5,737 a year. Then there are unburned coal metals and a great variety of more or less valuable things, a part of which is intercepted by garbage pickers, but a greater portion of which is thrown into the sea. That garbage worth $200,000,000 a year should be thus thrown to the winds in a city where thousands suffer from stinted resources is a sort of prodigality that naturally startles overcrowded Europe.—Boston Globe.

THE WEATHER.

Cloudy and threatening weather continues throughout Northern California and the extreme southern portion of the State and throughout the plateau region east of the Sierra Nevadas. Scattered thunder storms occurred throughout the greater portion of this region last night and were moderately heavy in Utah and Nevada. The pressure conditions this morning are such as to indicate a continuance of showery weather in the region from San Francisco northward during today and tonight and similar conditions will probably continue east of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

FORECAST MADE AT SAN FRANCISCO FOR 36 HOURS ENDING 5 P. M. AUGUST 20, 1896

WEDNESDAY.......AUGUST 19, 1896.

The Philadelphia Times, an independent Democratic paper of great ability, declares that every indication now points to a vote in November of about 700,000 for McKinley and not over 300,000 for Bryan. Unless all present signs shall prove delusive, McKinley's vote in Pennsylvania must be fully or more than 2 to 1 as against Bryan. The nomination of a true Democratic ticket will not effect the result in this State to any appreciable extent.

The latest rail road innovation has occurred in Minnesota. Over a year ago the Minneapolis, St Paul and St Sault Ste Marie Road tried the plan of allowing each locomotive engineer to hire his own firemen. The plan has worked so well that the managers of the road now propose to let each conductor hire his own brakeman. Other roads, including some of the most important in the country, have been watching the plan with great interest and its general adoption is under discussion.

Just as the news come of Nansen's return without finding the North Pole, there is a report that Andree who projected the balloon voyage to the Pole will wait for another year. They have been waiting on the Island of Spitzbergen for a favorable breeze to waft them northwards, but it is has so far failed to materialize or to give promise of an early arrival. The time for a propitious voyage is rapidly ending, and, unless a start is made before the end of August, there will have to be a return to Norway, and a weary delay of about ten months before the second attempt can be made.

There is a lady living in Manchester, New Hampshire, who changes color like a chameleon, if the local reports can be believed. The color of her eyes remains brown and the hair black, but her face and hands change to suit the color of her clothes. She does not dare to wear ribbons nor any of the shades of blue, red, green or yellow. In pure white her face is ghastly, and the color of her hair and eyes makes it even more so than it would be if they were lighter. Black renders her so dark a brunette that there might be a strong suspicion that she was not of the Caucasian race. She, therefore, wears none but subdued grays and browns, which render her less noticeable. The affliction for it is a great affliction, came upon her gradually, and is steadily growing more pronounced.

Bolting National Conventions.

The Times of Philadelphia, has been looking into the history of bolting National Conventions. There have been two distinct bolts which have defeated the regular candidates of the party. In 1848, the Buffalo Democratic Convention was composed of bolters from the Cass and Butler ticket, nominated by the regular Democratic Convention at Baltimore. It defeated Cass in every State east of the Ohio line, and elected Taylor to the Presidency. Again, in 1860, there was a bolt from the Democratic National Convention at Charleston, resulting in the nomination of two Democratic National tickets, one composed of Breckinridge and Lane, and the other of Douglas and Johnson. That bolt elected Lincoln to the Presidency.

There have been several distinct minor bolts further back in the political history of the country. That of 1824 was remarkable. The caucus candidate was Crawford of Georgia. He was defeated and John Quincy Adams was elected by the House. There was the bolt against Grant and the nomination of Greely.

The bolting convention to meet at Indianapolis, is the most important since the Democratic revolt of the Van Buren Buffalo Convention. It will represent a very large element of the Democratic party, with the prospect that the cleavage will be as effective as was the Buffalo Convention.

Republicans and Woman Suffrage.

The Republican State platform favors woman suffrage. It follows that the party should do nothing to discourage that measure, but should afford all reasonable facilities for the discussion of that question. The women of California, or a large number of them, are working to secure the approval of that measure by the electors at the coming election. They have at present no votes, but they have great power to influence votes.

At the recent Republican demonstration at the Macdonough Theatre in this city, representatives of the Woman's Suffrage Association asked for a representation on the platform, and for an opportunity to present their cause in a five minute speech. That was a reasonable request. For some reason it was denied. It might have been because it was too late to change the programme. But it was a mistake both as to policy and principle, to refuse such a concession. A speech of five minutes at a Republican meeting for woman's suffrage, might well be conceded on the score of courtesy but with still better grace as a matter of justice.

The Woman Suffragists of California have none of the usual machinery for a popular canvass. They have a number of good speakers who seek such opportunities as can be found to present their cause. The right to be heard ought not to be denied to them. The appearance of suffrage advocates on Republican platforms, will in no wise hinder the discussion of the other great issues now before the country. It is creditable to the party that its meetings are so orderly and so entirely within the limits of decorum, that women can appear upon the platform and among the audience and become thoroughly interested in all the great public questions of the day. These advocates of woman's suffrage ask nothing that is unreasonable. What is conceded in one platform ought not to be denied on any other. Give these earnest women a chance.

For the Commerce of Oakland and Alameda.

The training walls of the harbor of Oakland would have been completed before this date had it not been for the effort made to divert Government funds to the construction of a tidal canal, thus giving that work the precedence over the more important work of improving the harbor. Nearly a quarter of a million dollars were expended in excavating the tidal canal, its approaches and in constructing the iron bridge for a crossing.

Every dollar of this money ought to have gone into harbor improvements between the Webster street bridge and the designated end of the training walls. Had the money been so expended the training walls would have been completed, and the ship channel improved so far that little complaint would have been heard about any difficulties of navigation.

Citizens finally called a halt. They demanded that the Government appropriations should be expended where they would tell the most for the interests of commerce. And here it might be well to correct the impression studiously made by Dr. McLean and his friends that he was instrumental in procuring the present appropriation as a part of the continuous contract system. We do not so understand it. If he had never gone to Washington the same results would have been brought about by the California delegation in Congress. The member from this district, in conjunction with others, including Senator Perkins, secured the appropriation and are entitled to the credit of that result. Dr McLean had not a little influence in giving out misleading information. The appropriation of public money in the wrong direction, is largely due to his leadership. Hereafter a wiser policy will prevail. The improvements of the harbor will go right on in spite of all lachrymose protestations.

The Democratic Protest.

This is a year of strange political contrasts, and there are none more striking than the protest now made by the thinking and solid men in the Democratic party against the revolutionary course of the Populist wing of the party. Democrats are facing their antagonists squarely on the leading issue before the country. Bryan made his declaration of policy in New York. For some days it was a question whether he was to be taken seriously, or whether he really expected to be taken in that light. Now comes the reaction. Bourke Cockran, a leading Democrat, backed by an immense concourse at Madison Square Garden and supported by the leaders of the party, none of whom appeared at the Bryan meeting, exposed the fallacies in the speech of the latter in a masterly way. He declared in substance, that the declarations of Bryan were revolutionary, aiming in spirit to array class against class, to destroy public confidence and to make the lot of the laborer harder than it ever had been. "The man who raises his hand against the progress of the working man raises his hand against 'prosperity.'" That is an elementary truth. And it is also true that the hands of Bryan and his supporters are now raised against the prosperity of the country.

It is a noteworthy fact that while horses have been very dull of sale in this country and the prices have been very low, the sales of American horses have been very brisk in England. The London Field expresses natural surprise and alarm over the large number of American horses which, it says, it has discovered "in our midst." During the past year no less than 10,000 American horses have been sold in London alone. A large number are used for the omnibuses and street cars, but The Field adds, "The carmaster and smaller dealer profess not to touch them, the former believing, and possibly rightly, that the majority of foreign horses are somewhat soft, while, as a rule, he declares that at his price he can get plenty of well bred English horses, and that they do his work very well. The fact is, however, that there are almost as many American horses drawing cabs as American subjects riding in them. After American and Canadian horses have changed hands under the hammer they are resold without any thing being said about their nationality. They get into the country and add to the difficulties and perplexities of the breeder."

The Latest Overman Confession.

The Overman woman having made another confession, it will probably stand until she makes another. This last one does not seem to call for any revision of the public judgment. She was long ago taken to be a consummate liar and something more. The last should confirm this opinion so far as to have followed as a natural sequel.

There seems to have been a mutual dropping of old associations. Brown was compelled to drop the woman on leaving the country, and the woman has dropped him. The conspiracy for black mail involved four women, every one of whom has escaped any other penalty than the notoriety associated with the offence. Such testimony as the Overman woman offers may or may not be true. But it would influence no verdict in any civil court. Has it any other value in an ecclesiastical court?

The next fashionable fad that will find favor with ladies in this country is the barefoot cure, better known as the Kneipp cure. The Baltimore Sun relates that several ladies walking through the Park in New York suggested that it would be a good thing to try the Kneipp treatment there. "The suggestion was immediately voted to be a good one and the ladies found a sequestered spot, where they commenced to try the cure. The grass was long and soft says Miss Bourgoin in relating her experience and felt like plush to our feet. There was just enough earth moisture to keep it cool. We had soon covered several blocks of territory and found the result satisfactory. Indeed it was simply delightful. That night I went to sleep the moment my head struck the pillow. I had been troubled with insomnia for some time and when I awakened in the morning and found that I had had a good night of uninterrupted rest, I confess I felt disposed to attribute it to the Kneipp cure. I have taken the walks many times since then, in the morning, before breakfast, and I have returned refreshed and comforted after each walk. A slight rheumatic pain on my right ankle entirely disappeared. Other friends of mine have taken my advice and, I think, if you care to take the trouble, you will find that a great many ladies hover around the park morning and evening with their shoes and stockings in their hands, while indulging in the benefits that accrue from taking the Kneipp cure."

The educational campaign it is hoped, will extend into Tennessee. The Washington Star tells of one Southern statesman who had ideas on this subject about as intelligent as those entertained by some persons today. In Unicoi county, Tennessee, there is a large district known as the Flagpond, although it is a mountainous section where there are no ponds and no flags grow. A man named Sands runs a general store and controls the votes of the district, as almost all the voters are indebted to him and let him act as political dictator. At a meeting Erwin Sands was an attentive listener, and after the speeches were over he called the free silver advocates to one side and said: "I'm in favor of this here free silver ef it's goin' to be run fair an' square, but I'm ag'in' it ef we people out here in the mountains ain't goin' to git none of it. Now, I want an understandin'. All of the people in the Flagpond deestrict will vote for it if it's all right. Now, I am postmaster out there and of course I would be the man to give it out. Now, if it carried, just how much of that free silver am I goin' to git for each man?"

death of 176 horses in that city from heat. "Nearly all the animals have died from exhaustion due to the excessive heat or from sunstroke. Many of them have dropped dead in their tracks while pulling heavily laden wagons along the streets; some have fallen along the roadsides in the suburbs while speeding along with carriages, their deaths being due to the inconsiderateness of their drivers, a number died in the veterinary hospitals after being overcome by the heat in the streets, while others succumbed to the heat in their stalls in private stables and livery stables. A great many animals have been prostrated, but have been revived by being promptly drenched with water and by the application of ice to their heads."

The Baltimore Sun notes the The great heat of late in Eastern cities has caused a great mortality among

Here is an illustration of how love will triumph over all obstacles. A story is told in Pearson's Weekly by a lady whose privilege it was to discover how the way was found: "The young woman could not write or read writing, and one day she brought a letter to me to read for her. It contained an offer of marriage. I happened to know that the writer was a deserving young artisan, so I said to her. "Now, you must consider this matter very seriously, and if you like to come to me when you have made up your mind, I will write a reply for you." A day or two afterward I met the girl again and asked her if she wanted me to answer the letter for her. "Oh, that is all right" said she, looking radiant and pleased "I've settled it. I answered it myself." "Why, how did you do it?" I asked. And then she told me that she could make a capital 'I,' and that she stuck on the paper a piece of wool after it for 'will'—'I wool.'"

George William Curtis had a summer residence in the town of Ashfield, among the hills of Western Massachusetts. That little town cherishes his memory. The town people have recently set up a tablet to his memory. Professor Charles Norton delivered the address on the occasion. "Of all the blessings which can befall a community," said Professor Norton, "there is none greater than the choice of it by a good man for his home, for the example of such a man sets a standard of conduct, and his influence, unconsciously not less than consciously exerted, tends to lift those who come within its circle to his own level."

Henry Watterson writing from Switzerland, defies any man or woman to get drunk on Swiss wine. He draws a broad distinction between it and the blue grass whiskey of Kentucky. The latter will make a Kentucky politician talk through his hat with enthusiastic freedom.

LINEN'S REIGN IS OVER.

Bargain Counters Have Rung Its Death Knell.

August is a hard month for the maids who flee to the seaside early in the season. Gowns that were then so bright and fresh looking are now faded from the sun's bright glare. And to clap the climax, the "two weekers" are showering upon all the watering places in the full glory of costumes in the latest modes.

All this sends the early maid on a flying trip to the city to replenish her wardrobe, which she can do at a nominal cost. Linen suits, embroidered with blue, brown and yellow silk, are now to be bought for about $5. The skirts are made in the latest cut, the sleeves are small, and, altogether, these inexpensive suits are rather stylish in appearance.

Don't be inveigled into buying a plain linen suit, unnecessary advice, however, to the woman who crosses the ferry to come to New York. When linen skirts are to be had for sixty-eight cents each, what can prevent their becoming common.

A pretty material is striped dimity, light in weight and cool. Have it made with a bolero—if you wish to be strictly up to date.

What a Parisian girl wore is worth copying. A mauve dimity striped in yellow. The skirt gored, tight fitting across the front and rather narrower than those of the early summer, a ruche of a deep mauve silk about the foot, just like the old fashioned affair, a broad belt of the silk softly laid about the waist. So the skirt is finished.

The waist of soft yellow silk muslin was partly concealed by a bolero, made with broad revers and edged with lace.

Worthy of mention are the ribbon ends which fall from the belt at the back. Truly, are we returning to the modes of former days.

ON THE FIGHTING MAST.

One of the Most Dangerous Posts on a Man-of-War When in Battle.

In that coming naval battle between the steel fleets of two first class powers to which nautical authorities have been looking forward ever since modern battleships became the mighty engines of problematical forces that they are, the military mast and fighting top will play a deadly part and be the station for danger and heroism.

As everybody knows, the old mast, the mast of yards and sails, has vanished from the modern ship of war. The Newark is the only modern ship in the United States Navy which has sail carrying masts. The place of the mast that was erected for sail carrying purposes is taken on the modern warship by a steel tower, which rises from the deck to support one, or maybe three or four circular galleries, where rapid fire or machine guns are placed, which in time of action pour their hail of bullets at the deck and ports of the hostile ship.

The object is to kill the gunners, for it is self evident that the most powerful gun is powerless if its crew is dead. Take the twenty rapid fire guns distributed along the superstructure of the Indiana. From a fighting top such a storm of lead could be driven upon these great guns as would make it impossible for men to work them. Therefor it will be one of the first duties of a warship to shoot away with its heavy guns the military mast of its adversary.

As one well directed shot will send the mast tumbling, it is not probable that any ship will come out of an engagement with its military mast standing. The shooting away of the mast will, of course, mean the death of every man in the fighting tops. Men sent there will know as they climb the dark ladder to their stations that they go to almost certain death, and will have only one duty before them, to kill as many of the enemy as they can before the crash comes.

Men who in turrets and sponsons below are handling the great guns have every hope of life and victory before them, but the men in the tops go to their duty with no such hopes and expectations. To man the fighting tops in action will be a kind of martyrdom especially hard to endure.

To perform deeds of valor in the face of contending armies, or to suffer with fortitude in the gaze of admiring thousands, is one thing, to climb up calmly inside a steel post and work away at such an unpoetical mechanical device as a rapid fire or machine gun until such time as it may please the enemy to blow one into "kingdom come" is quite another thing.

Yet the modern man-of-warsman is enthusiastic over the advantages of the military mast, and would obey an order to man a gun in the fighting top as readily as he would the bugle call which summons him to his meals.—New York Press.

Eugene Field's Love for Children.

Eugene Field was a man of generous, tender spirit and boundless sympathy. He gained and held the love of little children and of men and women, for in his writings he appealed to young and old, and every gentle nature responded to the magic of his honest verse.

He was a great lover of animals, and was constantly making pets of them. He was very fond of birds, but as he disliked to see them caged, he looked forward to the time when he could add to his new home a good conservatory, where the birds might find a home and fly in and out among the plants. After he had once become attached to a pet of any kind it was exceedingly hard for him to give it up. For several years he paid the board of two old dogs at a farm. Some of his friends thought this a foolish expense, but he said he would not have the dogs killed, as they had been faithful to him in their younger days, and he did not believe in deserting old friends. Several years ago a Jerusalem donkey was given to the Field boys, and they named it Don Caesar de Buena. After they became too old to drive with him it was a serious question what to do with "Don." For some time he was boarded at a livery stable. His board bill soon became quite a serious matter. But Mr. Field would not have him sold, for fear that the children's old comrade might fall into unkind hands. At last a friend in Kentucky offered a home for the donkey, and there he is now, spending his last days in luxurious ease on a blue grass farm.—St. Nicholas.

DOES IT PAY?

Remarkable Illustrations of Certain Valuable Investments.

Last month there was paid the estate of one of our prominent citizens $40,000 by the "Mutual Life of N. Y." on a policy he was carrying in that company.

The family in this case received all he had paid into the company and an excess of $22,180! Only a few months ago the same company paid to the estate of Joseph G Eastland, President of the Oakland Gas Company, some $24,000—and to the estate of A. N. Towne of the S. P. R. R. some $30,000 with equally satisfactory results. Another illustration of the beneficent effects of an investment in the Old Mutual is given below:

In 1867 John P Irish of Buffalo, N. Y., then 21 years of age, applied for an endowment policy in the "Mutual" of N. Y. for $5,000, payable to himself at the age of 50. Last January, on reaching the age of 50, the company paid him the face of the policy	$5,000 00

With dividends added	3,323 89
Total	$8,323 89

He paid the company an annual premium of $302 80 for ten years, or $3,028, which deducted from the sum paid him left a profit of $5,295.89—as an investment he received nearly 4½ per cent compound interest.

Mr. W. E. Barnard of 456 Ninth street is the authorized agent of this marvelous financial institution—the largest in America or Europe—which disburses every month over $1,000,000 to its policy holders or their estates—over $600,000 in California alone last year, over $23,000,000 in the U. S. and other countries.

While its receipts exceeded $48,000,000, its resources exceed by millions of dollars the Bank of England. The company issues a large diversity of policies, ranging in amount from $1,000 to $100,000, on a single life. And we cordially commend the company and its agent, Mr Barnard, to those wishing insurance — every one should carry insurance, being governed as to amount and kind by his abilities and tastes.

Friday evening the band will give a request programme, and anyone is asked to send in the titles of pieces they would like to have played and the musical director will be guided as largely as possible by these requests in selecting the numbers for the evening. Send list of selections desired to Alex. Stewart, musical director of the Exposition, at the Secretary's office.

The programme for the remainder of the week will be varied and interesting. The different suburbs of the city will prepare the entertainment for Thursday and Friday evenings.

Thursday evening the residents of West Oakland will present a cantata entitled "Flowers and Grasses." Twenty young ladies will participate. A butterfly dance will also add novelty to the programme.

East Oakland will have charge of Friday evening's programme and a programme of great interest is being prepared. Several well-known and popular East Oakland musicians will participate.

Saturday afternoon an operetta entitled "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe" will be given by a number of children. The operetta is bright and attractive. It was recently given before Clan MacDonald and was pronounced an unqualified success.

Saturday evening will be devoted to soloists, vocal and instrumental. The programme will be a most interesting one.

This will close the Exposition. It has been wonderfully successful from the opening and the directors are more than pleased with the results of their labor. Although the accounts are not balanced as yet, it is known that there will be a large sum to transfer to the Exposition fund for next year.

THE TRIBUNE GUESTS.

GOOD SHOWS ARE STAGED

"The Masqueraders" to Be Given Again This Evening.

Excellent Production of "Cad the Tomboy" at the Oakland.

"Bohemia," Clyde Fitch's clever play, was presented before an appreciative audience at the Macdonough Theater last night. The many clever hits and well-timed scenes found much favor and the evening was passed most enjoyably.

This afternoon "The Benefit of the Doubt" is being presented. It is Arthur Pinero's new three-act comedy and the big run it has enjoyed in Europe and the East has given it a prestige that is certainly well deserved. A strain of comedy involving some shrewdly drawn satirical types of English life is a strong element of the piece. The scenes are laid at the house of a Mrs. Emptage in the neighborhood of Regents Park, London, and at the Lichens, the cottage of "the man in the case," at Epsom.

Tonight the engagement of the Empire Company will close here with "The Masqueraders." It is claimed by many to be the strongest piece in their repertoire and the big reception it has obtained wherever it has been presented is the best endorsement of its merit.

THE OAKLAND.

"Cad, the Tomboy" is making a decided hit at the Oakland Theater. It is presented by a splendid cast, including Gracie Plaisted and the humor never stops for an instant. The play is full of humorous situations and genuine dramatic features and the interest does not lag from the rise to the fall of the curtain. It is one of the best plays the Oakland has had for many a day.

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—Newspapers here continue to comment in severe terms upon the dismissal of General Bronsart von Schellendorff, the Prussian Minister of War.

The National Zeitung says: Several leading Generals have refused the post vacated by General von Schellendorff.

The Vossische Zeitung says: The absence of a stable Government must be of great detriment, so far as Germany's foreign relations are concerned. No foreign sovereign or statesman will be willing to begin important negotiations with a Chancellor likely to be removed at any moment.

A LETTER TO BRYAN.

Questions of Finance That Are Hard Nuts to Crack.

Delusions That Have Arisen in the Free Coinage Talk.

The following open letter has been addressed to Bryan by the Monetary Trust of New York:

New York, August 12, 1896.

To William J. Bryan, candidate.

You come to a great city. Heretofore it has been a joyous and prosperous city, but gloom has seized upon every business circle and anxiety has come to every home since you announced your coming. We fear you. We believe you represent the worst elements in the country. By your side we see Debs, and those who thrive when laws are broken; Altgeld, and those who strive to undermine the courts upon which we have relied for protection; Coxey, and those who leave their homes to tramp about in demonstration against established institutions; Faulkner, Lynn and others who preach "masses" against "classes." We shudder because such men and the principles you represent have brought desolation and devastation upon worthy people in every crisis of human history. It is not because we believe many of our citizens would naturally favor the dangerous policies you preach, but we are anxious lest misguided, honest voters, under the sting of personal misfortune, may not be able to reason through your theatrical rhetoric or look beyond your pious frontage at the demons of disaster which lurk behind you.

We realize that we are in a period of industrial depression. Those of us who have spent our lives in finance and in study of economic questions know that this depression has been world wide; that it fell alike upon those countries which are on a gold basis and upon those countries which are on a silver basis; that periods of prosperity and periods of depression have followed each other through the entire history of civilization; that such alternations arise from the effort of mankind to conquer nature and improve his condition; that periods of depression are brought about by natural causes and can only be overcome by a more careful study of the laws of nature and more careful obedience to those laws. We know that Germany, France and England have recovered from their depression, and that our own country is held back only because the dangerous principles you represent have loomed up before us.

You talk to the poor as against the rich, but you show that you do not understand the present distribution of this country's wealth. There never were so few poor people in any land as we have in this land today, and those who are poor are kept down only because of physical or mental defect. Such poor will be always with us. So also there are very few rich men in this country, and it is becoming constantly more difficult to acquire large fortunes. There has been a gigantic economic revolution in this country in favor of money saving, industrious people. The present owners of this country's wealth do not drive in the parks. They are not conspicuous. They handle pens and carry dinner pails. Such men own all the vast deposits of the savings banks; they hold ultimate grip on the life insurance companies, building and loan associations, and all other great organizations; they own the money in the trust companies; the American ownership of our railroads is in their hands. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, for example, which has helped to develop your own State, is held in such general distribution that the average to each individual is only sixty shares. They own the industrial corporations. The stock of the American Sugar Refining Company, for another example, is held in such general distribution that the average holdings are but ninety shares. The fact is, these potentates of the dinner pail own almost everything. They have grown relatively rich with more rapidity than similar people of any country in any epoch of history. Nor have such men ever before in any country received as large income as present wages yield, when compared with present cost of the necessaries of life. When you attack capital and rights of ownership, therefor, you are attacking all industrious, money saving men. As your policies have become conspicuous, they have destroyed values owned by such men in cruel manner. If national calamity should place this country in the hands of yourself and your associates, even these shrunken values would be in a large measure torn from the hands of those who have earned them to be distributed among your followers who have nothing and are nothing. You believe that this crushing decline in values has been "manipulated by brokers." Let us better inform you: Your crusades against courts, the rights of property and honest money standard have alarmed all men who have saved something and have increased the risks of purchase so that values are made vulnerable. The suffering has fallen upon humble, innocent men, scattered over the whole United States. But the money has been made by certain professional manipulators who trade upon your candidacy. They are the brigands of Wall street, and are your only followers in that locality. As it is now in Wall street, so it will be the whole country over, in the event of your election. Your associates will be the pirates, and all the innocent money savers of the country will be the victims.

You tell your deluded followers that the free coinage of silver will advance the price of wheat and other products. You are mistaken. You are not a thorough, economic student. The price of wheat is made by influences which cross each other in the middle of the ocean. Those influences are beyond the control of any one country. New fields in remote regions of the earth have been developed and transportation cheapened. In this age it is always harvest time somewhere, and the "ships that pass in the night" in perpetual competition determine the prices of all exportable commodities. You will not tell the merchants of New York that foreign countries will pay more for a cargo of wheat which comes from a silver basis country than for a similar cargo from a gold basis country. You dare not display such ignorance. The fact is, free silver coinage would not advance the price of wheat; it would simply reduce the relative value of legal money; it would take more of your adulterated money to buy things, and that adulterated money would be harder to earn.

Almost every day men come to our offices to secure funds for the development of some enterprise located in the South or West. Do you believe the South and West will be as prosperous without such additional capital? Would it not be better for the wage earners of those localities if such enterprises were established? Do you imagine that capitalists of the East or Europe will provide such funds unless assured that they will receive back money of the same grade? Where will the South and West now get the capital for such enterprises? The fact is, iconoclast Bryan, you have put the development of the South and West beyond the reach of the present generation. It will be far better for the country if you will go back to the Populists' haunts in Nebraska. You are out of your depths; you are away from your moorings; you are a financial lunatic running about with firebrands in your hands. The policies you represent have sent money out of this country for years. Do you claim that the United States does not need foreign capital at this early stage of its development? We beseech you, standing before a serious New York audience, do abandon generalities and metaphors, and grapple directly with these serious questions. From what part of the world will money come in the event your policies are inaugurated? Can you show from what source the capital will come which will establish new enterprises and give employment to our wage earners? We believe the greatest prosperity for this country can only come from marriage of foreign money with American labor. By such union our country will be rapidly developed, and abundant opportunities offered to worthy laborers to improve their condition.

The officers of the Monetary Trust are not "Republicans." They are not "Democrats." They are simply trustees for many people living in the South and West and all parts of the United States, who are striving to improve their fortunes by relying upon the good faith of the American people. We believe that this country can never be fully prosperous while Bryanism hangs threatening over us. Even your impossible candidacy has already darkened American credit, caused values of all our properties to shrink, torn the savings of a life from thousands of worthy men and caused all those who have saved something to stand mute, baffled and aghast. If your combination of evil men and ignorant men should place this Government in your hands and those of your associates, civilization itself would shrink, the nation's development would be set back a gloomy century, and all that we love and honor in this Republic would pass under eclipse.

FRANCIS D. CARLEY, President.

THE TINPLATE TROUBLE.

Indiana in the Throes of a Very Ugly Strike.

Union Men Declare Vigorous War Against All "Scab" Labor.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ELWOOD, Ind., Aug. 19.—Today is the day set for the 1,300 striking employes of the American Tin Plate Company to apply for their positions, as individuals, and the company's scale of wages.

The union men say that no one will go back to work today, nor will non-union men be allowed to enter the factory.

The strikers have details of men on duty, six hours each, and only officers of the company are allowed to go back and forth.

The union men say they can get 5,000 men to help them within three hours.

The company is stringing electric light wires around the grounds and placing barbed wire on the fences, and will demand protection from the State and county today.

The Sheriff says he will be ready to act promptly. Reports sent out from here that the militia was asked for yesterday are without foundation.

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, has been asked to go to Elwood, when the American Tin Works will, as is announced, start up with non-union labor. M. N. Garland, Vice President of the Federation and President of the Iron and Steel Workers, will also be present.

The union men say that the great mills of the country almost unanimously have signed the old scale, and that there is neither justice nor condition that operates to put in force a 15 per cent cut in wages.

The cut, they say, will be resisted to the last, and help will be given the mill workers of Elwood by kindred organizations.

The Adjutant General said last night that no troops had been ordered to be in readiness and that it lies with the Governor to issue such an order.

THE BANKS LISTED.

Assessments on Loans and Franchises Ordered by the City.

ATTORNEYS' OPINIONS GIVEN

Arguments Advanced by Representatives of the Institutions.

WATER FRONT MATTERS UP.

A Number of Other Cases Disposed of by the Equalizers.

The City Board of Equalization held a meeting last night which if not exciting was protracted, for it was nearly midnight when the members adjourned There were no applications for reductions disposed of Instead the advisability of adding certain property to the rolls was discussed That property is the banks' franchises, their loans on stocks and bonds and the shares of National Bank stock The Board took matters into its own hands and despite the advice of the City Attorney instructed the City Assessor to tax all of this property.

All of the banks had one or more representatives present but W. W. Garthwaite of the Oakland Bank of Savings was the first who spoke and he so clearly covered the ground on the Savings Banks loans that the other Savings Banks rested on his argument.

Mr Garthwaite said. "The County Assessor assessed the bank for loans on stocks and bonds, $187,000, franchise $3,000.

"The City Assessor omitted these from the city rolls The City Board now cites the bank to appear and show cause why these items should not be added to the roll.

"The bank admits that it has loans secured by stocks and bonds of quasi-public corporations amounting to $187,000, but claims they are not taxable

'To make our contention clear let us take a single illustration. The Gas Company owns property on the corner of Thirteenth and Clay streets which we will say is worth $187,000 Let us assume that the company owns no other property and has issued bonds secured by mortgage on this property for $100,000, and has issued stock for the remaining $87,000

"The Gas Company is a quasi-public corporation Its property is properly assessed at its full value, $187,000 without any deduction for the mortgage on the bonds, the bonds and stock being unquestionably non-taxable

"Mr. Smith owns the entire issue of bonds, $100 000, and stock, $87,000 He borrows from the bank $187,000 giving his obligation in the shape of a note (embracing a transfer to the bank of his bonds and stock) to secure the debt He is given a low rate of interest as the property represented by the bonds and this stock has already been assessed at $187,000, its full value

"Under Section 4, Article 13, Constitution, 'a contract or other obligation by which a debt is secured shall for the purpose of assessment and taxation be deemed and treated as an interest in the property affected thereby'

"In our illustration the debt is $187,000 It is secured by Mr Smith's obligation embracing the transfer of Gas bonds, stock and for all purposes of assessment this obligation must be treated as an interest in the property of the Gas Company.

"In other words for the purpose of the assessment the bank is the owner of the entire property of the Gas Company This property having already been assessed at its full value it is quite evident that if the Assessor shall assess the bank again for the same property it would be double taxation.

'It is no argument against the correctness of this reasoning to claim that by this method the bank escapes taxation on $187,000. The bank is permitted to make investments in untaxable property if it chooses

"It may invest in United States Government bonds, or it may invest in corporate stock, or it may invest in mortgage bonds of quasi-public corporations and no one will claim that to taxation

'If then the Constitution in clear language makes our loans on stocks and bonds an interest in the property of the corporations affected thereby, and as the property itself has already paid the full tax, and to tax our interest in the property in addition would be double taxation. It is evident that our investment in loans on stocks and bonds is a non-taxable investment."

The franchise, Mr Garthwaite continued, was not assessable because it gave no exclusive right. An individual or a class of individuals might rent a place next door to the bank and do the same business it did.

City Attorney Peirsol's opinion was called for He said that under the Constitution, solvent credits secured upon stocks and bonds were exempt and to assess them would be as Mr. Garthwaite said a double assessment. His view, however, on the franchise matter, was different He said that in his opinion the franchises might be assessed and to support it he read the decision in the case of the Spring Valley Water Co vs. L W Shotter

Snow attempted to question Peirsol, but Towle suggested that the banks' attorney be heard first

Attorney Yule on behalf of the banks then argued that bank franchises were not assessable and read law to support his views

The main question of difference between the attorneys was, is a franchise property Peirsol said that the minute the State came in and granted a right, that right became property and assessable Yule contended that the right was only such as any individual possessed and was not property of an assessable character

County Assessor Dalton's opinion was asked for He agreed with the City Attorney Peirsol on the franchise question but was still of the opinion that the solvent credits were assessable

Dalton and Yule argued for a time and the Union Savings and the Central Banks were called for A A Moore on behalf of the former and Attorney Yule for the California Bank, the Central Bank and the Farmers and Merchants' Bank said these corporations were willing to submit their cases on the arguments already made

Brosnahan then introduced a resolution directing the City Assessor to put on the assessment the following

Farmers and Merchants' Bank, loans on stocks and bonds, $54,000, franchise, $500

California Savings and Trust Company, loans, $1 000, franchise, $500

Oakland Banks of Savings, loans, $136,750, franchise, $3000

Union Savings Bank, loans, $131,400, franchise, $1,500

Assessor Snow questioned the right of the Board to tell him how much to assess property It might, he said, direct him to put it on the roll, but to value it was his prerogative

The City Attorney concurred with the statement of Snow and Brosnahan requested the clerk to cut out the figures

Manuel asked for the opinion of Attorney W. R Davis but Brosnahan suggested that the attorney was also a bank director and Davis refused to talk

Snow raised the question of assessing all franchises, saying that if legal to assess one it was illegal not to assess another and that there were perhaps 150 franchises of different kinds filed in the County Clerk's office

Dalton explained that this was the first year franchises had ever been assessed so he only tried the banks, but next year if the courts sustained the assessment he should assess all franchises

"I am not trying to jam anyone with this resolution." said Brosnahan, "but all of the banks showing up to oppose its passage makes things look as though it was good"

Manuel moved that the resolution be segregated so that the franchises might be assessed and the loans not.

The motion was lost on the following vote

Ayes—Buckland, Kaufman, Manuel, Marshall and Towle—5

Noes—Bassett Brosnahan, Heitmann, Watkinson and Mott—6.

Absent—Dow—1

The roll was then called on the resolution

The vote stood

Ayes—Bassett, Brosnahan, Buckland Kaufman, Towle, Watkinson and Mott—7

Noes—Manuel, Marshall and Heitmann—3

Absent—Dow—1.

NATIONAL BANKS

The National Banks were then taken up and Attorney W. S Woods, representing them stated that under the Federal law creating National Banks their shares of stock were not assessable until the State Legislature should designate the manner and place of their assessment. He advised the Council to wait until the next session of the Legislature, at which time the proper bill would probably be passed and all trouble and expense of litigation done away with

Peirsol's opinion was asked for He said that while the stock was not assessable to the bank he believed it could be assessed to the share holder

Assessor Dalton stated that he had made arrangements with Mr Bowles of the First National Bank in regard to the assessing of the stock of L G Burpee but that now Bowles had broken faith with him. 'I cannot assess the stock this year," said Dalton, "but next year I will see that it gets a double assessment'

Brosnahan introduced a resolution to assess to the First National Bank 2990 shares of its stock and to L G Burpee 10 of the stock, and to C E Palmer 1490 and to W H High 3 shares of the Union National Bank stock

The question of making a test case was discussed and Brosnahan withdrew the assessment of the 2990 shares to the First National Bank and 1490 shares to C E Palmer and the resolution as changed was unanimously adopted

THE WATER FRONT

The City Attorney stated when the Water Front assessment matter was called up that he had consulted with the other attorneys and they had advised that it was not proper to assess the property

The resolution striking the assessment from the rolls was unanimously adopted

It was 11 o'clock when Attorney Davis for the Oakland Water Company was given the floor to state why the assessment on the franchise should not be raised. He read law showing that the right to lay pipes for water was not a privilege but a right guaranteed by the Constitution of the State. The decision in the case of the Town of Woodland vs Stevens he also read as bearing most directly on the case

The attorney argued wholly from a legal standpoint and Assessor Dalton explained that he had assessed the franchise of the Oakland Water Company for less than the Contra Costa Company's franchise because it had only about one-half as much pipe land in the city as the Contra Costa Company has

"Now," said Brosnahan, when the arguments were over. "I move that the assessment be reduced to $1000 I made the same motion when the Contra Costa Company applied for a reduction because I believe a franchise is worth what it brings in. These franchises are not bringing in much now and the tax payers are getting the best of it. This talk about pipe is all taffy on the stick."

The motion was lost, then followed a series of four motions, one to raise the assessment to $100,000, one for it to remain at $75,000, another to reduce the Contra Costa assessment $25,000, and another to lay the matter over until tonight.

All the motions were lost, generally on votes of five to five and the matter was left as it stood

The Whitmore-Alsop franchise was the last matter disposed of before adjournment Heitmann charged the company with securing the franchise as a matter of speculation, with no intention of building a street railroad

Attorney Whitmore denied this but Heitmann's resolution to put the franchise on the assessment roll was unanimously carried

The Board then adjourned to meet tonight.

HUNTING A WHALE.

An Enjoyable Excursion to Be Taken on Saturday Next.

The people who have been satiated with outings along the sea and in the mountains and who desire a novel plan of passing a few days in pleasuring will find in the whale hunt which is to begin next Saturday just the novelty which their taste demands.

The hunt will extend over two days, beginning at 1 30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, when the boat will leave San Francisco and ending next Monday morning

The cruise will be made on the magnificent steamer Queen of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, and will extend northward to Drake's Bay, in the vicinity of which place the hunt will take place. The bay will be reached Saturday night and the Queen will anchor there until Sunday morning The hunt will then take place and will prove as exciting as it will be novel and interesting

A cruise southward will then be made, taking in the Farrallones and the Sea Lands ed steamers Colombia and St. Paul The Queen will return at 8 o'clock Monday morning

The cost of the trip will be $7 50 including all modern comforts All information on the subject may be had of W. B Hamilton, 2 New Montgomery street San Francisco.

EXPLODED TOO SOON.

Accident to Edward Ludlow and Lawrence Barrett.

Last Monday evening Ed Ludlow son of W. B Ludlow, master mechanic of the Southern Pacific Company, and Lawrence Barrett were mixed up in an accident which might have resulted very seriously As it was the two young men were badly injured.

On the evening Miss Ludlow and Edwin Jones were married and with the intention of obtaining a flashlight photograph of the guests, the young men prepared a pan of phosphorus and flash powder In some unaccountable manner the mixture prematurely exploded

Both boys were over it at the time and the pan struck Barrett in the head, cutting a severe gash over the eye Young Ludlow narrowly escaped having his thumb torn from his hand, but as it was the flesh between the index finger and the thumb was badly lacerated.

Dr. Miller dressed the wounds and now the patients are getting along nicely.

READY FOR A RUSH.

Freshmen and Sophomores Will Soon Test Strength.

BOTH SIDES ARE POWERFUL.

Announcement of the Military Appointments by Winn.

THE SCHOOLS ALL CROWDED.

Frederick Ward Will Speak Tonight in Stiles Hall.

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—A small rush occurred yesterday morning between the freshmen and sophomores. It only lasted for a few moments, and resulted merely in a few broken canes and damaged hats. There are plenty of freshmen and they are strong, and it is more than probable that the sophomores will meet their match in "rushing" the new comers.

After drill in the afternoon it looked for a time as if another rush were imminent. The sophomores gave their taunting yell, "Milk, milk, meouw, meouw, 1900, bow, wow, wow!" but the freshmen failed to respond. They had just come from drill and probably did not feel equal to the attack. A rush is sure to occur very soon, as both classes are longing for a tussle.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS.

Lieutenant Winn has made the following appointments of officers in the Military Department of the University: Captains—O. S. Case, Company F; R. C. Kinzie, Company A; H. P. Taylor, Company E; G. W. Bauer, Company D; W. A. Starr, Company G; C. A. Low, Company H; B. P. Miller, Company C; J. H. Mee, Company B; W. C. Jurgens, Signal Detachment; McNutt, Artillery.

First Lieutenants—J. D. Hatch, Company H; W. A. Everett, Company A; F. Tade, Company F; E. S. Sadler, Company D; A. L. Weil, Company G; L. H. Earle, Company B; W. C. Voorsanger, Company E.

First Sergeants—A. D. Elcomini, Company E; O. T. Wedemeyer, Company D; E. R. Watson, Company C; J. N. Force, Company F; E. W. Stadtmuller, Company G, recruits; P. R. Thayer, Company H, recruits.

Staff Officers—G. L. Bally, Sergeant at Arms; L. H. Miller, Quartermaster Sergeant; N. H. Craig, Sergeant Major, First Battalion; L. F. Wagner, Sergeant Major, Second Battalion.

SCHOOLS OVERCROWDED.

The Berkeley schools are in such an overcrowded condition that it is necessary to make some arrangements in order to accommodate the children. It is probable that new rooms will be found to accommodate the increased number.

In the High School there are 298 pupils enrolled. About $300 has been received as tuition.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

Frederick Warde will give his Shakespearean reading this evening in Stiles Hall.

Instructor Winterhalter has been selected as a delegate to the State Fair to represent the State University.

The Pastor's Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church gave an entertainment last evening.

"Josh" made its appearance in the University yesterday, the outer covering being in a bright green in honor of the freshmen. It contained lots of local hits and sold rapidly.

Director Magee of the U. C. Physical Culture Department is unable to attend to his duties at present, owing to illness. Rheinhardt, manager of the football team, is making the necessary trials of strength among the freshmen.

COULDN'T BEAT IT.

How the Smart Farmer Won the Groceryman's Money.

An amusing true story is related of a farmer who came into a village grocery in one of our western states and exhibited to an admiring crowd an enormous egg, about six inches long, which was laid by one of his old hens, says the Helena (Mont.) Independent. He had packed it in cotton, and wouldn't allow any body to handle it for fear of breaking the phenomenon. The groceryman examined it with the rest, and, intending to chaff the countryman, said: "Pshaw! I've got something in the egg line that will beat that."

"I'll bet you $5 you haven't," said the countryman, getting excited.

"Take it up!" said the groceryman, and going behind the counter he brought out a wire egg-beater.

"There's something in the egg line that will beat it, I guess," said he, reaching for the stakes.

"Hold on, there," said the farmer; "let's see you beat it," and he handed it to the grocer. The latter held out his hand for it, but dropped it in surprise on the counter, where it broke two soup plates and a platter. It was iron painted white.

"Some folks think they are karnation cute," said the farmer, as he pocketed the stakes and left, "but taint no use buckin' against the solid facts."

Sweeping—The streets to be cleaned in the following manner: Each street or portion of street to be sprinkled by a watering cart when and where necessary the entire surface of the roadway (unless prevented by obstructions) to be thoroughly swept from the center toward the gutters and the sweepings to be collected by hand and immediately removed from the street, and should any of the sweepings be deposited upon the sidewalks or remain in the gutters or upon the cesspool covers at the corners of the streets the same must be swept off by hand and removed at the same time as the rest of the sweepings, prior to 6 o'clock each morning, and all the work to be done to the entire satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Public Works.

The Superintendent of Streets, or a deputy designated for that purpose, shall make examination daily of all the streets or parts of streets so reported as having been cleaned during the last preceding twenty-four hours, and if the Superintendent of Streets is satisfied with the manner in which said work has been performed, he shall enter in a book kept for that purpose the name of the streets and parts of streets, with the lineal feet in measurement of the work so accepted.

If upon such examination the Superintendent of Streets, or his deputy, shall find that the streets or parts of streets directed to be cleaned and as reported by the contractor as having been cleaned are not thoroughly swept and cleaned to his satisfaction and approval, he shall make a statement in writing of such work as has not been done to his satisfaction and deliver the same to the contractor upon the same day, and the contractor shall not be credited with the same, or allowed any payment therefor. Should the contractor feel aggrieved by reason of such action of the Superintendent of Streets, he may appeal therefrom to the Board of Public Works at their next meeting, who, after examination, may remedy and correct the action of the Superintendent of Streets, and the decision of said Board shall be final and conclusive in the matter.

Yachting and Cycling Now Have the Top Hand.

FIELD DAYS ARE ARRANGED.

Baseball Is Struggling Hard to Keep Above Water.

NOTES FROM THE CLUBS.

A Review of the Athletes as Seen by the "Umpire."

The results of Saturday's yacht race have given a new stimulus to aquatic sports and several races are being spoken of

The big trans-continental relay starts on August 24th Local riders will cover the first district

The Centerville Athletic Club is arranging a field day to take place August 29th.

Football is now the talk among college men and as coaches for the two universities have been engaged, work on the gridiron will soon commence

THE UMPIRE.

The football talk is now being revived in earnest. Both the Stamford and U. C. boys are actively at work arranging their teams and as the coaches have already been announced it is now only a question of time before the gridiron will see the pig-skin again.

Both teams have lost several good men, though the U. C. still has Hutchinson, Selfridge, Kennedy, Sherman and Ransome. Stanford keeps Williams, Carle, Tickert, Cotton, Jeffs and Dole

There are many good men to select from and it is expected to put better teams in the field than were in evidence last year.

The practice at Berkeley will commence on September 15th, though not until early August will the Stanford boys don their sweaters

The big game is to be played as usual on Thanksgiving Day and will without doubt, prove the same drawing card as of yore.

* * *

The fact that the Oaklands (Acme) were beaten by a score of 19 to 7 in last Sunday's game is a matter of much surprise to many. The boys showed lack of practice and have seldom put up such a miserable game

The club has been considerably weakened by the loss of Donovan and O Neil, but the principal defect in the playing seems to be carelessness and a lack of generalship

It might be well for the boys to get together during the week days and do a little practice on the side.

From the looks of the batting record last week there is room for much improvement in this direction also, pitchers, indeed. Iberg has developed into a phenomenal pitcher of a sudden.

* * *

The result of Saturday's yacht race was highly satisfactory to the Alameda boys, who so successfully sailed the "Fawn" to victory. This is the second time the Challenge Cup has come to this side of the bay and it is all the more agreeable from the fact that the San Franciscans had boasted so much of their prowess

Next year the yachtsmen from the other side of the bay will leave no stone unturned to bring back their former glory and the races promise to form an important feature of aquatic events in the future.

The victorious crew is James Rossiter, captain, J A Landsberger, Ed Holmes, L. Ward, G. Dellman and G Leonard.

Last Saturday the Neel brothers again covered themselves all over with glory in the East. The clever tennis players won the all comers, double match, East vs West, in five of the most exciting sets ever seen in the history of tennis.

The Oakland boys never put up a better game and indeed the best licks were called for, for they were match'd against the former invincibles, Hobart and Hovey

The game took place at Narragansett Pier and now the two Neels stand at the head of the tennis players in the United States

Both boys obtained their early education in the game on the little court of the Oakland High School some five or six years ago. They have steadily worked their way forward until now the top rung of the ladder has been reached

The Examiner-Journal transcontinental relay ride will start August 25th at 4 o'clock in the afternoon from Market street and Grant avenue. The first riders are George and Clothilde Devaney, two little children, who will carry the packet to the ferry, where D. White will take it across the bay on a special boat On this side Allan Jones, the crack Olympic rider will carry the message to High street, paced by a triplet Here Frank Byrnes and G M Hamlin will cover the next ten miles, each riding half the distance.

Yoemen of the Reliance Club picks up the route at this points and from there on W. J Black takes it over the county line Other riders carry it on until New York is reached.

This is the longest relay ever planned in the world and it is expected New York will be reached in twelve days

The trans-continental relay is fashioned on these lines, riders being ready at irregular intervals from here to New York. They take the packet at any hour of the day or night and under any condition of weather and hurry it on to General Nelson A Miles commanding the United States Army The couriers en route will thus be in the Government service and under its protection during their ride.

James J Corbett is in New York where he arrived last Sunday He will go to Asbury Park the last of the week to train for the fight with Sharkey, which he anticipates will take place in October

In an interview Corbett is quoted as saying,

"The reports that I was not in good condition when I met Sharkey are all wrong I was never in better health and condition Sharkey is a great, big strong fellow and it will take a man in perfect trim to whip him in a finish fight, and I am going to do it"

"It would certainly not be to my interest to decry this fellow's pugilistic ability," exclaimed the conqueror of the once great John L Sullivan "and it would surely be unfair to say he is anything but a cold turkey proposition He's an original sort of a fellow, knows very little about rules but seems to have a most extraordinary fondness for getting punished on the jaw I really believe it's fun for him, just as it is for some fellows to punch the other fellow I think I can take all the fight out of him I'm here to try and straighten things out for a fight We're matched, you know, and I'm anxious to get into shape right away."

"Have you any idea where the fight will take place?" was asked.

'Any old place will suit me," Corbett replied, 'and I don't care how soon it is brought about My desire is to show the American people that I am not the 'has been' my San Francisco friends have painted me

"Wait till Sharkey gets here," was his parting shot 'He'll astonish the town, take my word for it"

The question whether wheelmen should take any active part in the coming political struggle is a nice one and it is causing the leaders in the cycling world a lot of worry The officials of the League of American Wheelmen have given the matter much thought and they have decided as an organization to keep their hands off They don't care and it would not make any difference if they did, what the L A W. members do as individuals. While the National organization will remain passive, no one need be surprised to see local L A W and even State Divisions get mixed in the political broil Political bicycle parades will very likely be a lively feature of the campaign and the sound money as well as the silverites are already working up this end of the game. No one has ever mentioned base ball or the horse in politics which seems to show that the wind is blowing pretty strongly in the direction of the bicycle.

Many of the saddles now in use are made of terribly hard leather A good way to soften them is to detach them from the L pin turn upside down and sprinkle the under surface with a fair amount of unboiled linseed oil to be bought at any paint shop If this is objected to upon the score of possibly soiling the knickers, or if the cyclist be away from home, here is an alternative measure Buy a common tallow candle, place it in the sun until quite soft, then smear the under part of the leather, and again stand in the sun or before a fire until it soaks in The leather will be rendered soft and pliable and not the slightest stain will be observed.

It is a general axiom in adjusting to have too loose rather than too tight a bearing. Wheels should spin freely and the valve weight should rock them to and fro for many minutes. Mere lifting of the machine ought to set the wheels moving unless the valves happen to be exactly at the bottom of the wheels A little side play in bearings is not harmful, but a tightened bearing may jamb or fire, and is at any rate very hard to drive Careless cyclists would do well to remember that inattention to the cleaning and lubricating of their machine greatly shorten its life Of course everyone knows this, but many proceed as though they did not

The meet to be held at Central Park next Saturday afternoon will probably be the last to be held there, as the track must be removed the latter part of this month to make room for a circus. The meet is being managed by Captain Walter B Fawcett of the Olympic Club Wheelmen, and he has the support of all the cycling clubs and the Cycle Board of Trade

CAMP ACME.

The Bicycle Boys Are Having a Large Time on Gualala River.

The Acme cyclers, who left Oakland a week ago Saturday are enjoying themselves immensely on the Gualala River. The boys left on a combination cycling and camping trip In the party are A. P. Swain, E. W Decker, J. W. Otey, A. H. Agnew, C McDonald, J. W. Bird, A. L. Bedbury and W. Kimball.

The following letter from Captain Al Swain is interesting.

CAMP ACME,
North Forks Gualala River,
August 13, 1896

Editor Tribune—Sir: As I am staying in camp this afternoon with nothing special to do I will drop you a few lines and tell you about our trip.

We left San Francisco on Saturday morning last and took the train to San Rafael, where our ride began. From there to Petaluma the roads were very fair and the twenty-four miles were ridden in something less than two hours There we laid over a couple of hours and had lunch, then we journeyed on to Santa Rosa, sixteen miles away, with roads getting a little worse. At Santa Rosa we again ate lunch, with several watermelons and after calling on some of our fellow riders of that fair town, including Captain Ramage, Noonan and several others, started on to Healdsburg.

For five miles the roads are watered and in elegant condition, but after that they become almost unrideable and each one of us had one or more falls to his credit, generally more.

Everything bad as well as good has an ending, and this was true with us, for we at last came to our destination. Healdsburg is a very pretty little town with many hospitable people and pretty girls. We stayed one day there and spent the Sabbath resting for the ride of the next day.

On Monday we loaded our camping apparatus, which we had shipped to Healdsburg by train, on our wagon and started on our trip in earnest Our driver was a meek, quiet little old countryman with the fierce sounding name of Wolf. This goes to show that nature sometimes acts by contraries, especially in the naming of her children.

We stopped for lunch at Skaggs' Springs, where we found that a dozen loaves of bread and some sundries for eating had been lost from the wagon (the Wolf had been sleeping.)

After luncheon we rode on and camped for the night at a place called the Summit, though what it is the summit of we could not find out, as it was surely not the summit of the hill, as was shown the next morning when we expected to have a good ride down hill, but instead had a long walk up hill.

With an early start and fine roads for a long way, we enjoyed the morning to the utmost From the mountain top we could see the ocean and with the reflection of the rising sun on the water, it made a sight never to be forgotten.

After riding five or six miles over excellent roads we came across four or five eight and ten-horse teams, hauling tan bark, which is brought down by about thirty burros from the mountains It is a strange sight to see a little mule about as large as a good-sized New Found land dog, carrying a load of bark about three times its size We almost caused a stampede when the mules saw our eight red sweaters and the profane language used by the drivers was something terrible to hear

From this place on the roads were very badly cut up by the bark teams, and all the way in to the little town of Stewart's Point were almost unrideable, owing to a big grade that had to be walked both up and down We had to wait a long time for our wagon, and when it finally came we rode on to the town of Gualala and then up the river several miles to the forks, where we have our permanent camp located.

The hunting and fishing is unsurpassed and the camp is always plentifully supplied with fish and small game, though no deer have yet been brought in.

We have a very beautiful spot for a camp, close to the river and here we will be pleased to entertain any of our friends who may come to visit us

STANFORD'S COACH.

H. P. Cross of Yale Will Direct the Team Work.

The Stanford boys made a good selection when they engaged H P Cross of Yale to coach the football team this year. He will arrive in October and commence his labors at once.

Coacher Cross is only 22 years old His home is in New York City He has always been one of those few football players who stand at the top of their classes. He has made a great record for himself in the field as well as on the gridiron He and W O Hickok, the champion hammer tosser of 95, were the invincible team that always scored first and second places for Yale in the intercollegiate Mott Haven games

There is considerable speculation as to why Walter Camp should have selected a man who had only played a regular varsity through one season But from what can be learned, it seems that Cross is a master at his position and also a good teacher He is a natural born coach and as Captain Tickert of the Stanford team plays on the line it is thought that Mr Camp decided this would be the best selection he could make.

Howe Happy

Judge Ellsworth has excused David Howe from the trial jury for this term of the Superior Court. Howe showed that he had been given employment in the ship joiner business at the Navy Yard at Mare Island. He said that he had served in the Mexican War and the War of the Rebellion, and that when an old soldier or sailor applied for work at the Navy Yard he was always given the preference, no matter how many other applicants who had not saved their country were on the list before them.

OAKLAND'S BOOMERS

The Merchants' Exchange Has the Right Kind of Spirit.

ONE GOOD ROAD ASSURED.

Resolutions Endorsing the Contra Costa Route Matter.

NOW FOR TELEGRAPH AVENUE.

A Strong Appeal to Be Made to the City Council.

The regular weekly meeting of the directors of the Merchants' Exchange was held last night in the rooms of the Exchange in the Central Bank building

The meeting was called to order at 8:20 with Vice-President G W. Anper in the chair There were present Directors Witcher, Gier, Cushing, Brown, Sinclair, Boyer, Farwell, Meese, Sohst and Turn Suden.

Secretary Webb Pearce read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved

The following resolutions were adopted.

"Whereas, The business community of Oakland has for a great many years realized the necessity of a good road, of easy grade, between Oakland and Contra Costa County, so as to permit of the marketing of the products of that county in this city, and

Whereas, The Contra Costa Road Committee, consisting of Messrs. D C. Brown, G B Daniels, Wilbur Walker, J. F. W. Sohst, J S Wixson and W. V Witcher, appointed by this Exchange, has, with the valuable assistance of other public-spirited citizens, succeeded in securing the laying out of such a thoroughfare, therefor,

"Resolved, That the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland does hereby extend a vote of thanks to Supervisors W S. Pelouse, J R. Talcott W H Church, J E. Johnson and Hiram Bailey, County Engineer George L Nusbaumer, W J Dingee, H M Turn Suden, J H. Medau, and the Oakland Water Company for valuable assistance rendered by them to said committee, and be it further

"Resolved, That a special vote of thanks be extended to the members of said Contra Costa Road Committee for the untiring energy displayed by them in accomplishing so much for the business interests of the city of Oakland and Alameda County.

"GEORGE L. FISH,
"F SINCLAIR,
"J. F. W SOHST,
"Committee."

President Witcher then reported that the committee of three on arrangements for the "spread" which was to have taken place last night had decided to postpone the same indefinitely, owing to the absence of many business men from the city, as also because of the continuance of the Exposition, which is now in progress in this city and the many political meetings which are being held at this time

Chairman Anper said he had heard from the United States engineer who is supervising the improvement of Oakland harbor, and that that engineer, Col. Suter, had reported to his superior in Washington in favor of completing Oakland harbor to a uniform depth of twenty feet at low water, before touching the tidal canal.

Treasurer Cushing asked to have the secretary draw warrants on him for the money due the bands that have been giving open air concerts on Friday evenings This, he said, would be necessary in order for him to balance his books He also stated that $231 50 had been paid out for such purposes thus far The secretary was ordered to comply with Mr. Cushing's request.

On motion of Director Sohst a committee of three comprising Directors Brown, Sohst and Sinclair, was appointed to go before the City Council and ask to have Telegraph avenue repaired.

Mr. Sohst in support of his motion, said that the paving of Telegraph avenue is so broken and rough that farmers coming over the new Contra Costa road know when they get into the city because of the contrast between the surface of the roadway and the level thoroughfares beyond.

"The Council," he said "has seen fit to cut the salaries of many of the city's employes, and, maybe, there will be enough money now to improve the avenue a bit. If an individual were to go before the Council, to speak on the subject of better pavements no attention would be paid to him. But, if the Merchants' Exchange should take the matter up the Council would certainly lend an attentive ear.

"The holes in Telegraph avenue," he continued, "have been counted and measured three times at great expense to the city It would cost only 10 cents a square foot to bituminize the street."

Director Sohst went on to say that there were too many tax-eaters at the City Hall, that every official had to have "a rig," and that every official's assistant had to have one, too One man, he declared, who had nothing to do but go around and examine the crossings had put in a bill of $9 every month for bicycle hire

"When Grant was here," he concluded, "he remarked that, in all his travels, he had not seen prettier streets than we had then right here in Oakland! That was when we had the old charter. He couldn't say it now"

The meeting then adjourned till next Thursday night.

A RASCALLY TRICK.

A Confidence Dodge That Brought Mourning to a Home.

The police are looking for an entirely new kind of confidence man, who fleeced Conductor Baker of the Grove street line out of a small sum.

The stranger introduced himself to Baker as a Marin County farmer, and stated that he and the conductor had lived in the same Canadian village. As Baker came from the town which was mentioned he readily took in the stranger's story that his (Baker's) father had died recently and the relatives, not knowing the son's exact address, had sent a box of goods to the Marin County farmer, who, by the way, explained that he corresponded with his old home. The box, the stranger further added, was to be delivered to Baker and that he would forward it Incidentally he mentioned that he had paid $2 50 as expressage. Baker of course paid the $2 50 and went home to mourn the loss of his parents. The box did not come, and an investigation showed that the money was all the conductor had cause to mourn for.

He Believes Bryan But Makes a Shot at Stewart.

By Associated Press to the Tribune.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Mr. Bryan's word goes with me, and I shall be glad so to state to the people of this country," said John M. Thurston of Nebraska, after reading the flat-footed denial of W. J. Bryan that he is or has been in the employ of the silver mine owners.

"Mr. Bryan has denied the charges which was made by a Democratic newspaper, and I have no hesitation in declaring I believe him."

Regarding Senator Stewart of Nevada, who has taken up the cudgels in behalf of the Democratic nominee, Thurston said: "Stewart has arrived at that stage of political second childhood which entitles him to great consideration and I don't think that anything further need be said on that score."

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Among the callers at Republican National headquarters last evening was Senator Allison. He was anxious to confine his speech-making to his own State, but yielded to the persuasion of the National Committee and will make two speeches in Illinois, one in Indiana, one in Minnesota and two in Nebraska.

The speeches will be made in September and October. One of the Illinois speeches will probably be made in Chicago.

Messrs Durbin, Cummings and Payne of the Republican National Executive Committee have arrived to assist Committeeman Dawes in the work that is piled up before him.

Senator Thurston is expected with the latest information from the seat of war and his advice will probably be put into concise shape before many days. There are nearly a hundred people engaged in the work of distributing printed matter and the amount of literature still on the hooks would fill a good-sized library.

Mr. and Mrs Bryan reviewed the troop of United States Artillery as it passed through here this morning on its way to Painsville to camp.

Today is to be spent quietly, the party driving this afternoon to Rhine Cliff through Ellersley, the summer home of Governor Morton.

The Governor and family are at their lodge in the Adirondacks, and the house is closed.

Bryan will probably speak in Poughkeepsie, Pine Plains or some other place in this county before he leaves.

Saturday the party will go over to the Catskills for the day's outing.

TO GATHER IN GOLD.

Arrangements Are Being Made for Bringing Back the Metal.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—It is stated that effective measures will be taken by the Exchange Syndicate to secure the importation of a large amount of gold variously estimated at $20,000,000 to $25,000,000.

Wall street continues to attach special significance to the London quotations accordingly a lower market for Americans at London resulted in fractional declines here, sugar and Burlington displaying the greatest heaviness and scoring declines of 3-4 per cent each.

Reports of further demoralization in traffic rates precipitated selling railway shares in which grangers suffered most severely. Acute weakness was also evident in some specialities, sugar receding to 103. Manhattan to 74 1-2. A jump of 5 per cent to 80, in Louisville & Nashville and New Albany consols attracted attention in view of the decline of a similar amount yesterday.

Silver is 65 3-4 and lead 2 60.

The market rallied on further reductions in sterling exchange. Covering by shorts also contributed toward higher figures, sugar making an extreme gain of a point to 104. Lead preferred displayed exceptional weakness, receding 3 3-4 to 76 1-2.

The stock market began advancing sharply, soon after midday, upon the report that Lazard Freres have made arrangements to import $2,000,000 gold by the steamer leaving London next Saturday. It is claimed that at current rates of exchange the transaction cannot be made without a loss

The weakness of the Exchange market is attributed to offerings of syndicate bills

After the returns were considered, Committeeman C. F. Ford tendered his resignation as a member of the committee, stating that this course was necessary, as he intended to be a candidate for Supervisor from the First District at the coming election. BROWN IN HOT WATER

Mattie Overman's Confession Is Starting More Trouble.

THE LETTER IS IN OAKLAND.

Dr. McLean Says It Will Be Kept Secret at Present.

DR. MOGAR HAS IT NOW.

It Is Believed That It Implicates More People.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Rev. C. O. Brown, the San Francisco minister, whom the alleged confession of Mattie Overman has again brought into prominence, has been boarding at 437 South Leavitt street, but could not be found there today.

The landlady said he left a few days ago to visit relatives, but would return as soon as Dr. Blanchard, his cousin, returned from Detroit.

Telegraphic inquiries elicit the information that Dr. Brown is not at either Kalamazoo or Dubuque.

THE CONFESSION HERE.

A Desire to Keep It From the Public for the Present.

Mattie Overman has brought out a fresh sensation in the celebrated Brown scandal case. She has handed to the Rev. Mr. Brown's colleagues her fourth statement and this time makes charges of a specific nature such as cannot very well be overlooked by the Ecclesiastical Council.

In the statement she retracts everything she has said in defense of the pastor and accuses him of immoral conduct, joining her own name with his. She further states that Brown paid her expenses to keep her out of the country and that she lied at the trials.

The letter has been digested by members of the Bay Conference and it is said the trial will again be re-opened with the view of ousting the erring pastor from the ministry.

According to statements Dr. McLean was supposed to have the letter in his pocket. When called on today by a Tribune man the clergyman emphatically denied this.

"It is a mistake," he said. "I have not the letter in my possession; Mr. Scudder of Alameda, has the document."

"Regards calling the Council together again I have heard nothing except what has been published in the papers. I don't think the Council will convene to consider the matter but I cannot say positively.

"No, I do not think there is a possibility of the public seeing that letter. There is much in it which is entirely irrelevant to the case in hand and many statements in which the public will not be interested.

"I am certain that if I had charge of the document I would not give out its contents and I do not think Mr. Scudder will."

Further than this Dr. McLean would not discuss the subject though he was sure nothing had been said to him regarding another meeting of the Council.

WHAT SCUDDER SAYS.

Dr. Scudder was seen in Alameda this afternon by a Tribune man and in response to a request for the letter said: "I have handed it to Dr. Mcar to give to Dr. McLean. I do not think he will give it up until he finishes an investigation regarding it."

SNOW SEEKS ADVICE.

The City Assessor Does Not Like the Bank Situation.

City Assessor Snow is in a quandary over the resolutions of instructions passed last night by the City Board of Equalization ordering him to assess National Bank stock and the loans of other banks on stocks and bonds and the franchises of all banks. The question to him resolves itself into the query "Am I the Assessor or a ministerial clerk to the Board of Equalization."

Dalton, Snow says is the bell wether who leads the council flock. Whether or not he (Snow) will follow in their wake is a question on which he will take legal counsel.

"To my mind," said the City Assessor this morning, " the Council acted contrary to the evidence and legal advice which was given it last night. It is merely a case of threshing old straw. The people have just learned that something is not being assessed and the Council says tax it, put it on the rolls anyhow. There may be no law for this but that makes no difference. It will encumber the rolls and will do no good. We cannot base an estimate on its collection. C. E. Palmer last night stated that he did not ever expect to pay the tax and the City Attorney advised that we could not collect a tax on bank loans on stocks and bonds. There is no time for me to make the addition so I suppose I have unlimited time. With me, however, it is merely a legal matter and I shall take the advice of attorneys before I do anything. At present my mind is not made up as to what course I shall pursue."

Mrs. McBean Worse.

Mrs. Alexander McBean of 217 Durant street who was thrown from her carriage against a stone wall some time ago, has suffered a relapse and is now in a very critical condition. She was injured internally and her recovery is extremely doubtful. Two physicians are in consultation today.

RALSTON--BULLITT.

Society Gathers at a Big Wedding at High Noon.

BISHOP NICHOLS CELEBRATES.

A Charming Reception Held Afterwards at the House.

EXQUISITE DECORATIONS.

The Event Is One of the Most Notable of the Season.

The marriage of Miss Claire Ralston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ralston, and Dr. James Bell Bullitt of Louisville, Kentucky, occurred this morning in St. Paul's Church. It was the occasion of an unusually brilliant assemblage. The little church, which has been the scene of so many fashionable weddings, was crowded today with well known society people of Oakland and San Francisco.

The church was transformed into a tropical bower. The chancel and altar were trimmed with palms. The altar railing was completely hidden beneath delicate ferns. The columns of the church were twined with feathery green ferns. No color was used, and the white and gold altar cloths gleamed brightly from among the green foliage.

The church was crowded fully a half hour before noon, the hour set for the ceremony. During this time, music was furnished by William King, who was the organist for the occasion.

Promptly at noon the melodious strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" rang out, and the bridal party entered the church. The ushers, Messrs. Selby, Campbell, Hayne, Brayton, Wilson, Blanchard entered first. The groom followed, supported by his best man, Louis Ralston. Two little tots, clad in white, little Master Atherton of Menlo Park and little Miss Selby, came next, carrying huge bouquets of white carnations and smilax.

Next came the bridesmaids, the Misses Selby, De Fremary, Bells, Walker and Watts. The maid of honor, Miss Mae Austin of Stockton, walked behind them.

The bride entered last, leaning on the arm of her father. The groom met them at the chancel rail, where Rev. Robert Ritchie performed the betrothal services. At the conclusion of this ceremony, the bride and groom advanced to the altar, where Bishop Nichols performed the solemn and impressive marriage service.

The scene was an unusually beautiful one. The delicate gowns of the bride and her attendant maids against the dark green background of ferns and palms, formed a picture of exquisite beauty. Beneath the overhanging palms, within the altar rail, stood the Bishop in his rich robes. A flood of sunshine filled the edifice, lighting up the brilliant gowns of the women.

The pretty bride looked very lovely in an elegant gown of rich white satin, made very simply. The bodice was plain; the long wrinkled sleeves had small puffs on the shoulder. Her long tulle veil, falling to the hem of her gown, was fastened by a delicate wreath of orange blossoms.

The bridesmaid's gowns were made in a style similar to the bride's. They were of pale green satin, with an overdress of delicate mousselaine de soie. High stock collars of satin were worn. The bridesmaids wore picture hats of white leghorn, daintily trimmed with chiffon, green satin ribbon and green aigrettes.

Mrs. Ralston wore a handsome gown of heavy ribbed silk, with a front of chiffon and jet. The women present were gowns of much richness and beauty.

Directly after the ceremony a reception was held at the handsome Ralston home at 1110 Madison street. The decorations of the house were exquisite.

The bridal party received in a bower of ferns and palms, relieved by La France roses and pink amaryllis. This color scheme was carried out in the decorations of all the reception rooms. In the hall, the decorations were in blue and gold, bachelor buttons and golden rod making an effect gorgeous and striking in the extreme.

Later in the day, Dr. and Mrs. Bullitt will leave for the East, where their future home will be.

Among the many guests present were Mrs. and Miss Requa, Mrs. H. A. Horn, Miss Simpson, Mrs. and Miss Baker, Mr. and Mrs. William Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Magee, the Misses Hush, Miss Ida Belle Palmer, Mrs. Geo. Wheaton, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Edwin Goodall, Miss Goodall, Mrs. W. L. Prather, Miss Myra Prather, Mrs. H. M. A. Miller, Mrs. Thos. ATTACKING THE MARSH.

The West Oaklanders Will Keep Their Case in Evidence.

A Rousing Meeting Held Last Night of the Improvement Club.

The West Oakland Improvement Club held an enthusiastic and well attended meeting last night at Hansen's Hall. President George J. W. Stark wielded the gavel and Charles L. Wines officiated as Secretary.

A communication was read from the Non Partisan members of the City Council stating their inability to attend owing to a meeting of the City Board of Equalization of which they are ex-officio members.

William Walsh and G. W. Drake of the Marsh Committee reported progress.

The park proposition was then taken up. Giles H. Gray suggested that the Club insist upon the members of the Council carrying out the promises in that regard made before their election. Mr. Gray desired that the Councilmen appear before the Club and talk the matter over.

C. H. Reddington agreed with Mr. Gray and thought that it would be a very wise idea to get the City Fathers interested in the matter.

G. H. Garthorne stated that many gentlemen who had been against the park have since told him that they now favor the proposition. "We are not," said Mr. Garthorne, "asking the Council for other sections of the city but we certainly want something done for West Oakland. Six members of the Council will stand with us and I don't believe for a moment that the Mayor will enter a veto to a measure favoring a park for this section. Councilman Kaufman, the Mayor's representative, stated the feelings of the Mayor regarding this matter the other evening. It is not necessary for us to ask the cooperation of up-town organizations as we already have their sympathy. What we want is an appropriation."

George Stanley said that in an interview with Councilman Mott that gentleman stated that the Mayor once vetoed a council measure appropriating $5,000 for a park in West Oakland. Mr. Garthorne said that if the Council is sincere it could have the $5,000 but it has not done so. "We have nothing to thank any body for at present," stated Mr. Garthorne. We have so far accomplished every thing for ourselves. We are not alone working for the First Ward but also for all Oakland west of Market street."

Attorney H. D. Talcott was next introduced and he said that new arrivals seeing such an unsightly marsh as that at Sixteenth street depot would pass Oakland by. "I claim," said Colonel Talcott, "that citizens have a right to a breathing place. You have carried your point so far in securing the filling of the depression at the foot of Twelfth street and by earnest efforts you will still further succeed.

Supervisor W. S. Pelouze declared himself as heartily in favor of the park and expressed himself as in sympathy with the work of the Club. Mr. Pelouze said that whenever an opportunity presents itself wherein he can assist the Club he will gladly do so.

W. J. O'Connell thought the Mayor will do all he can for West Oakland.

John C. Bullock assured the Club that he would call together the Committee of the old West Oakland Improvement Association and have the money now in bank to the credit of the old Club transferred to the credit of the present organization to be used for park purposes.

A committee consisting of W. W. Morrison, Louis Ruffschmidt and J. C. Bullock was appointed to wait on the District Attorney and ascertain whether the Board of Supervisors had authority under the State Immigration laws to make an appropriation for the West Oakland Park.

The Club then adjourned till next Tuesday night when it is expected that the Councilmen will be present.

Among those present at last night's meeting were the following well known West Oaklanders: G. H. Garthorne, C. H. Reddington, Supervisor W. S. Pelouze, Colonel H. D. Talcott, Henry W. Watkins, Daniel Robertson, E. A. Scheerline, W. W. Morrison, Charles G. Yale, Giles H Gray, John H. Bruning, William Christen, G. W. Drake, H. C. W. Bode, E. E. Walcott, H. Kirchner, C. T Smith, W. J. Robinson, Frank Monaghan, E. S. Sullivan, J. S Colburn, J. A. Brett, H. L. Nash, Robert Johnstone, Louis Huffschmidt, Daniel J. Mullins, J. Mott, W. H. Lovden, M. Freeman.

A LOSS TO THE POOR.

Death of Mrs. McCourtney at Her Temescal Home.

Her Purse-Strings Ever Open in the Cause of Charity.

The many friends of Mrs. P. M. McCourtney will be grieved to hear of her demise, which occurred late last night at her home on Fortieth street. For some time past she had been in failing health, and her death was not unexpected. She was nearly 80 years of age.

Mrs. McCourtney was a daughter of John Evoy, who was a wealthy land owner of Temescal. At his death, the property was divided among his children, Mrs. McCourtney, Mrs. Mulligan, Mrs. Zach Montgomery and John Evoy.

Mrs. McCourtney was a most liberal and philanthropic woman. Shortly after the death of her husband, nine years ago, she founded St. Joseph's Home for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, on Fortieth street and Telegraph avenue. Together with her brother-in-law, Zake Montgomery, she gave the site for the present Church of the Sacred Heart on Fortieth street. Besides these large donations she gave innumerable smaller donations to charity.

She leaves five children Mrs. E. S Belden, Mrs Margaret Hughes, James, Paul and Ignatius McCourtney.

Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

A HIGH SCHOOL RUSH.

The Senior Classes Come Together in a Slight Scrimmage.

The two senior classes of the Oakland High School had a rush today that was nipped in the bud by Principal McChesney. Otherwise the results might have been disastrous, as the low seniors out number the high seniors half a dozen times.

The trouble began at a meeting of the lower class last night. The high seniors attended the meeting five strong, and although there were thirty '97 men they failed in their attempt to eject the stubborn five. The latter succeeded in breaking up the meeting, and, incidentally, in stirring up a lot of bitter feeling.

After the meeting the low seniors put up a flag, bearing the class figures, on a telegraph pole opposite the High School building.

Today at noon the half dozen members of the '96 class began pulling the emblem with rocks, and were immediately charged upon by their opponents.

Havoc reigned for a while and then the stalwart form of Principal McChesney hove in sight and bore down upon the squirming mass of students. Peace was soon restored, and then, under the protection of the Principal, Hoffman and Champrieu of the higher class ascended the pole and triumphantly brought down the shattered emblem.

Both classes say this is not the end of the trouble, by any means, and that they will fight the thing out to the end.

A CASE OF BIAS.

Family Troubles Are Satisfactorily Settled by Mrs. Prescott.

Mrs. Prescott of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children this morning, after a word war and a threatened arrest, settled the differences between J. A. Bias and his wife, who have been living apart for about a month, and whose children are in Mrs Prescott's custody.

Bias, according to his story, left his home at 878 Lydia street in July because of trouble with his wife. She took the matter philosophically, turned the children over to charity and sold the furniture. The father wanted to get half of the proceeds of the sale for the children and this morning the mother consented to give it up.

OFF TO THE SOUTH.

A START NEXT FRIDAY.

Fourth Ward Republicans Have a Good Rally.

EAST SIDERS IN SESSION.

Political Points and Campaign Gossip of All Sorts.

Friday evening the members of the Alliance Republican Club will assemble in Elite Hall and make definite preparations for the Los Angeles trip. The boys will go through the old drills and spruce up a bit on tactics.

The arrangements for the trip are completed. A very low rate has been obtained to Los Angeles and return and it is expected fully one hundred members will be in line. The start will be made one week from this Friday afternoon and the train will reach its destination by midday Saturday.

In the evening a big rally will open the campaign in the south. All along the line the boys will be feted and a general good time is anticipated.

The Fourth Warders.

The newly organized Fourth Ward McKinley Club held a largely attended meeting last evening in People's Hall, 767 Sixth street.

The session was called to order by Temporary Chairman T. F. Mock, who introduced the president, Dr. C. M. Fisher. In a brief, but appropriate speech, Dr. Fisher thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him and then the business of the club was taken up.

The appointment of an Executive Committee was first in order and the following selections were made: Senator Ell Denison, chairman, T. F. Mock, S. M. Gemmell, Charles E. Snook and Rod W. Church.

It was deemed advisable to have a standing committee on entertainment and the following were named to constitute it: A. J. Mullen, W. P. Ainsworth and J. P. Blake.

The speaker of the evening, Judge J. J. Allen, was next introduced. He explained lucidly the principles of the Republican party, and spoke at length on the questions of the protective policy and the great financial question. The speaker was frequently interrupted with applause and his able address was heartily appreciated.

Frank Barnett, T. F. Mock, S. W. Getchell and others spoke and before the meeting adjourned twenty-four new signatures had been added to the roll.

A pleasing feature of the decorations in the club room was the presence of portraits of the National candidates.

The club will meet again next Tuesday evening at half-past 7 o'clock, when besides excellent speeches, a musical programme of merit will be listened to. At that time, also, a proposition will be considered relative to holding a big rally in Montana Hall, Seventh and Adeline streets, during the week. If this is decided upon, ladies will be invited to attend and an excellent political entertainment will be afforded.

At next Tuesday evening's meeting all Republicans are invited to attend.

The East Side Club.

Last evening the East Side Republican Club of the Second Ward met in the hall on Twenty-second and Broadway streets, where a permanent organization was effected. Fully 100 representative Republicans of the ward were present.

The first business transacted was the appointment of a committee on permanent organization, and the selections made were: F. R. Porter, chairman, H. R. Miller and Seth Cosby.

The report of the committee was adopted and the following were declared to be the officers for the year: Ja W. Kennedy, president; Fred E Pierce, first vice-president, Grant I. Taggart, second vice-president, Charles Brier, secretary, and E. A. Heron, treasurer.

Addresses on National issues were made by ex-Governor Pacheco, Grant I. Taggart, L. W Kennedy, H. M. Sanborn, F. R. Porter and others.

Ladies Will Speak.

The Army and Navy Republican League will meet tonight in its Eighth street headquarters and among the speakers who will address the votorans are several ladies, headed by Susan B. Anthony.

Lake County Delegates.

The Lake County Republican Convention assembled yesterday and named W. J. Biggerstaff, W. B. Collier, and J. L. Reed delegates to the Third Congressional District Convention. Hilborn's candidacy is favored.

Gold Democrats.

The California wing of the Gold Democrats met yesterday in the Palace Hotel and formed a permanent organization to be known as the "Sound Money Democratic Club."

John P. Irish read a telegram from ex-Congressman W. D. Bynum urging activity and asking for a full delegation to be sent to Indianapolis on September 2d, when the National Gold Democratic Convention will be held.

A BIG SALE.

Valuable Lands Throughout the County in the Sheriff's Hands.

One of the important sales of realty under foreclosure which has taken place in this county in a long time was conducted by Under Sheriff Harlow, acting as Commissioner today.

The property included 82.77 acres in Rancho Las Positas near Livermore, 31.50 acres in Rancho Diablo; 6 acres in connection with the Livermore Collegiate Institute in Livermore; another tract of 4 acres in the same vicinity, and two other parcels containing respectively 640 acres and 322.12 acres, making a grand total of 1,085.12 acres. The property was bid in by the Bank of Livermore for $25,083.07.

This sale brings to a close the tedious settlement of the affairs between the bank in question and J. D. Smith, formerly principal of the Livermore College and more recently of the Livermore public school who, at one time, cultivated many of the acres which have now passed out of his possession.

Profits divided with customers who go direct to their stores is the plan of operation of the Great American Importing Tea Company, whose four big stores are at present offering such unprecedented bargains.

BROUGHT UP TO PLEA.

A Number of Noted Cases Come Before Judge Greene.

Prospects for a Stipulation in the Auditor Whidden Matter.

Myron Whidden, County Auditor, was to have been arraigned this morning on the charges of embezzling funds of the Tax Collector's office and the mutilation of records, but the matter was continued until Wednesday next.

When the defendant appeared, Judge Greene said to A. A. Moore, the attorney for Whidden, that there are a number of indictments pending against the defendant, and he desired to know whether or not the matter could be expedited by stipulation.

Mr. Moore said he would ask for a week's continuance to plead, and in that time he would be able to examine the bills.

Mr. Moore's wishes were acceded to.

Previously to this disposition of the latest charges against Mr. Whidden, there was a continuance of a week granted also in the matter of the bill of exceptions in behalf of Whidden, growing out of the trial of the charges made against him by the Grand Jury preceding the last.

It will be remembered that the indictments returned against Whidden at the time were knocked out, and the court ordered the matter re-submitted to the Grand Jury which has just adjourned. To this action on the part of the court, exception was taken by the defendant's attorney, who held that the second last Grand Jury had no legal existence because of the insanity of one of the members who composed it.

The amendments to this bill of exceptions have not as yet been agreed to, but it is expected that the matter will be settled inside of a week. If this appeal should be sustained by the Supreme Court, it would invalidate all of the recent indictments which were returned against the defendant by the first Grand Jury. There were two more indictments, however, returned against Whidden by the later Grand Jury than there were by the first jury, and these would not be affected by the affirmative action of the Supreme Court on the questions on the appeal.

The same disposition in the matter of the amendments to the bill of exceptions in the Menzer meyer case was made as above referred to in the Whidden case.

Edward Kelley and John Martin, charged with destroying parts of the County Jail to facilitate their escape therefrom, about two months ago, pleaded not guilty to the offense, as also to prior convictions against them. They reserved the privilege, however, of withdrawing the plea later.

The Anderson case, in which the defendant is accused of attempting to rob a man named Omelia, was continued till Wednesday next.

Robert Sternitzky, charged with assaulting A Semenza, was given one week in which to plead.

NOBODY WAS TO BLAME.

Investigation of the Cause of the Isolde's Wreck.

The Commander of the Britannia Talks of Errors of Judgment.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

RYDE, Isle of Wight, Aug. 19.—An inquest was held today upon the remains of Baron Moritz Curt Von Zedwitz, the German yachtsman killed yesterday in a collision between Emperor William's yacht Meteor and Zedwitz's yacht Isolde.

The commander of the Britannia expressed the opinion that the Meteor ought to have given the Isolde a wider berth, and thought there had been an error in judgment.

Captain Gomez of the Meteor denied having infringed the rules, and said there would have been plenty of room to pass had not the Saint struck the Isolde and shoved the latter out of her course, and across that of the Meteor.

The collision with the Isolde could not be avoided except by colliding with the Britannia, which, he explained would have resulted in a far more serious smash up.

The jury rendered a verdict of nobody to blame.

MITCHELL'S MOVE.

The License Collector Talks About the Exposition Matter.

License Collector Mitchell feels that he has received undue censure for his act in serving upon the Directors of the Exposition a notice for them to pay a license. He wholly denies the statement of Superintendent Cragie Sharpe who said that the whole business was spite work. Mitchell also repudiates the charges that it was the doings of the Merchants' Exchange because the Exposition is being conducted by Sharpe, the Secretary of the Board of Trade.

"I only carried out the instructions of the Treasurer's office in serving the notice," said Mitchell, "and as it had to be done under the ordinance, I do not see where anyone can find grounds for saying that spite or personal feeling entered into the affair. Some time ago I spoke to the Exposition Directors about a license which would only cost $10. They seemed to think that they should not pay one and I told them that the Auditor was the only person who could issue a free license in such cases. They did not go to him but instead paid the license yesterday afternoon. I am not a member of the Merchants' Exchange and if I were it would make no difference. I served a notice which was given me by the License Collector to serve, nothing more or less."

An Estate in Dispute.

Phineas F. Marston Jr. has commenced a contest of the will of the late Phineas F. Marston, alleging that for some time prior to his death and at the time he made the will, deceased was mentally incompetent to manage his property, and that his person and estate were under the charge of a guardian. The will in question leaves to the widow and two of the children, Mrs. Heald and Frank A. Marston, each one-fourth of the estate, and the other fourth to Frank A. Marston, in trust for the contestant. The estate is worth $50,000.

Valley Road Bonds.

The Valley Road Directors have at last completed the preliminary arrangements necessary for the proposed issue of $6,000,000 worth of bonds for extensions. The extension will include the proposed eighty-five miles of road from Stockton to Oakland, together with a contemplated ferry passenger line from Oakland to the foot of Market street, San Francisco, and a ferry freight line from Oakland to the China basin.

DOUBTS NANSEN'S STORY.

Lieut. Brainard Is Skeptical About the Arctic Adventures.

He Talks of "Lamentable Ignorance" on the Part of the Explorer.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

FORT RILEY, Kan., Aug. 19.—Lieut. D. L. Brainard, of the Second Cavalry, who accompanied General Greely on his famous Arctic expedition and was with that officer in the most hazardous of his exploit, is rather skeptical as to the value of Dr. Nansen's discoveries.

In conversation with a reporter, Lieut. Brainard said: "The information contained in the accounts of Nansen's return is so meagre that I hesitate to express an opinion as to the scope and value of his work.

"I will say, however, that the report of the return of the Jackson-Harmsworth relief vessel Windward from Franz Josef land within a month from the time of her departure from England would seem to admit of grave doubts as to the truth of the story, as the Windward could not reasonably be expected to reach her destination and return short of ten to twelve weeks.

"If the reports prove true, and Nansen is returning, then his journey has indeed been wonderful and he deserves the applause of the scientific world for the pluck and energy displayed by him under most trying and discouraging circumstances.

"So far as I can recall, no Arctic authority except one treated Nansen's plan of reaching the North Pole as a sane and feasible one.

"To push the Fram north of the New Siberian Islands into the icy seas from which no vessel had ever escaped the clutches of the Polar pack, was regarded by those having a knowledge of the subject as hazardous in the extreme—almost the work of a madman—and few expected Nansen ever to return alive; and I doubt if there was any who believed it possible for the Fram to long escape being crushed in the massive ice of that region.

"The safe return of Nansen and the Fram, however, will not change in the slightest degree the opinion of experts that Nansen's novel plan of drifting to the North Pole was foolhardy, senseless and that he displayed lamentable ignorance of the dangers lurking in the treacherous ice pack."

OUSTING HER RELATIVES.

Aged and Sick Women to Be Driven From Their Home.

A Remarkable State of Affairs in the Matthews' Case.

The suit which is now pending in the Superior Court entitled Mrs. Rose Matthews vs. R. T. Matthews, Mrs. M. Matthews and J. S. Matthews is bound to attract considerable attention, because it involves a number of points which are not usually brought up in such cases.

It is a suit in ejectment and, though the plaintiff is a woman, the defendants assert that, behind her is her husband, Wickliffe Matthews, the San Francisco attorney, who resides at 1033 Magnolia street in this city. The defendants also say that the house from which the ejectment is sought is the property of Wickliffe Matthews, although for the purposes of this suit he transferred the place to his wife a short time before this suit began.

The first of the defendants mentioned is the only sister of Mr. Matthews, who is an invalid, the next is the mother of Mr. Matthews, who is 76 years of age, and the last of the defendants is a brother, who is in no way involved in the misunderstanding.

The defendants claim that Wickliffe Matthews is indebted to R. T. Matthews in the sum of between $500 and $800 for books, clothing, office furniture, education and money advanced, which he refuses to pay, because of its being outlawed.

All the defendants asked was to be permitted to remain in the house of the son and brother until the rental should have cancelled the indebtedness referred to. This Mr. Matthews has declined to do, as shown above, although he asserts that he is a rich man, being worth at least $20,000. Another feature of the case is that the defendants are not alone sued for possession of the premises, but also for $200 damages and the fees of Mrs. Matthews' attorney, because Matthews himself hired some other person to prosecute the suit, but at the same time, Matthews appeared and argued the demurrer in the case.

LAWYERS IN CONCLAVE.

Russell and Other English Notables on the Scene.

The American Bar Association Starts Its Saratoga Session.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 19.—There was a large attendance in the Convention Hall at the opening of the nineteenth annual meeting of the American Bar Association today.

When Lord Russell, Sir Francis Lockwood and Montague Crackenthorpe, together with their ladies, entered the hall, they were greeted with hearty applause.

Judge George S. Batcheller escorted them to seats at the front near the platform.

President of the Association, Moorfield Storey, conducted Lord Russell, Sir Francis Lockwood and Montague Crackenthorpe to seats on the platform.

Others honored with seats on the platform were J. Randolph Tucker, Edward J. Phelps, Wm. Allen Butler, Henry Hutchins, Austin G. Fox, Charles Claflin Allen, Francis Rawle, James C. Carter.

President Storey called the Association to order and delivered his address.

President Storey's address was largely devoted to the subject of railroad re-organization, showing how receiverships have been unjust to the interests of creditors.

Hewett Lee, of the Northwestern University, Chicago, read a paper on "Teaching Practice in Law Schools."

UP FOR PERJURY.

The Examination of Martinell Starts Before Judge Greene.

The case of E. Martinell, charged with perjury, came up for trial before Judge Greene today. The defendant is accused of having sworn that Ella Renner, to marry whom he sought a marriage license, had attained her 18th year. The couple were subsequently married, and this annoyed the bride's sister, who had Martinell arrested on the ground that he had perjured himself, knowing that her sister was not 18 years of age.

Martinell is deformed, and as he sat beside his counsel his head scarcely appeared above the back of his chair. The defendant was accompanied by his bride, who is rather a pretty girl.

Deputy County Clerk Cal Ewing, who issued the license at the instance of both Martinell and his bride, testified that the defendant had sworn that his bride prospective was 18 years of age and signed his name to the affidavit. At the time, Mr. Ewing said, the prospective bride stood beside her lover at the desk and made no remonstrance to her age.

For the defendant other witnesses testified that the girl herself swore that she was 18 years of age.

The jury after being out a short time, returned a verdict of not guilty.

STOPPED THE FISH.

Henry Hograff to Be Arrested for Violating the Rules.

Game Warden Donovan of San Leandro secured a warrant this morning in the District Attorney's office for the arrest of Henry Hograff on the charge of violating the fish and game laws. It is alleged that Hograff has built a dam sixty feet wide and nine feet high across the creek in Crow Canyon, near Haywards, which prevents fish from ascending the stream to spawn.

The fish laws requires where dams are built across creeks that there shall be supplied, reaching from the top of the dam to the water below the dam, a fish ladder of approved design which shall enable the fish to ascend and descend the stream over the dam at will. The length of such ladder is to be six feet for every foot in the height of the dam, which, in this instance would require a ladder to be fifty-four feet in length. Donovan says that although Hograff has been repeatedly instructed to comply with the law in this respect, he has defied both the law and the officers. Hograff, he says, has put in the dam a contrivance of his own which neither complies with the law nor does what the law contemplates shall be done by means of a fish ladder.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SACRAMENTO, July 20, 1896.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-first session, beginning on the seventh day of January, A. D. 1895, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following prescribed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

Amendment Number One.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.)

ARTICLE XIII.

Section 1. All property in the State not exempt under the laws of the United States, or this Constitution, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law. The word "property" as used in this article and section is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that property used for free public libraries and free public museums, growing crops, mortgages, trust deeds, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State, or to any county or municipal corporation within this State, shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide for a reduction from credits of debts due bona fide residents of this State.

Section 2. Section four of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Section 3. Section five of article thirteen of this Constitution is hereby repealed.

Amendment Number Two.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 5.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law; provided, that secrecy in voting be observed.

Amendment Number Three.

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 19.)

ARTICLE XII.

Section 3. The liability of stockholders of corporations or joint stock associations shall be limited by the face value of the shares of the subscribed capital stock or shares of such corporation or association; and whenever any shares have been fully paid up, the holder of such shares shall not be further liable to such corporation or association, or the creditors thereof, on that account. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint stock association, whose capital stock is not fully paid up, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder or shareholder, as the amount unpaid upon the stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole amount unpaid upon the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The Directors or Trustees of corporations and joint stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint stock association during the term of office of such Director or Trustee.

Amendment Number Four.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 25.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs, shall be subject to and controlled by general laws.

Amendment Number Five.

(Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13.)

ARTICLE XI.

Section 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the Judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said Judges and of their clerks and attaches.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of Boards of Education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such Boards.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the Boards of Police Commissioners shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such Boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all Boards of Election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such Boards, and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article eleven, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation, and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies.

Amendment Number Six

(Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11.)

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims to vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law; provided, no native of China, no idiot, insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, and no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privilege of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upward at the time this amendment shall take effect.

NOW, THEREFORE, Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, and an Act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for the submission of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A. D. 1893, the said amendments are submitted, to be separately voted upon by ballot by the qualified electors of the State on

SPAIN CALLED TO TIME.

Indignities Heaped on Two Seamen by Weyler's Forces.

Legal Proceedings Instituted and Full Redress is Demanded.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Alexander Porter Morse, one of the best international lawyers in the country, has filed an important brief with the State Department touching upon the rights of American citizens in Cuba and charging the Spanish administrative authorities with bad faith and duplicity toward representatives of the United States.

Mr. Morse is acting as counsel for Gustav Richelieu. On the brief filed he will base a claim against Spain for damages for Richelieu's arrest and imprisonment by Spanish authorities.

The brief is especially important because it applies equally to all Americans who have already or may in the future suffer arrest in Cuba. Mr. Morse, who is familiar with the law of nations, goes exhaustively into the law and precedents to prove his case.

The case of Richelieu is thus briefly set forth:

"A fishing smack bound from one Haytian port to another, bearing two half-starved seamen, entitled to the protection of the United States, is forced by stress of weather and lack of food into a Cuban port.

They at once report to the captain of the port, produce their papers for inspection, explain their distressing situation, and request to be directed to the United States Consul. Instead of complying with this request their boat was seized and without arraignment or service of judicial process, they were placed under guard, conveyed to prison and locked up.

They asked to be conducted to the office of the United States Consul, but instead of being directed there they were sent under guard to prison, notwithstanding their earnest protest.

Here they were confined in a loathsome prison in company of the lowest description of criminals for sixty-two days, under circumstances of indignity and outrage on the part of the Spanish authorities, which are detailed in the memorials on file in the Department of State.

The United States Consul made earnest and repeated efforts to secure their release, but his efforts were of no avail until after the lapse of long imprisonment, mentioned.

The complainants have consistently protested that neither during the times mentioned, nor at any other time or place, have they engaged in what is called a filibustering expedition against the Spanish Government, nor have they in any way taken part in any revolutionary movement in Cuba or elsewhere.

And no testimony or proof was produced by Spain during their long imprisonment showing or tending to show that they had at any time or place engaged in such unlawful acts.

CATTLE BLINDED.

A Remarkable Disease Breaks Out at Ottawa, Illinois.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Ottawa, Ill., says:

Farmers in Brookfield Township just south of Marseilles are greatly exercised over a new disease which has broken out there.

The disease has spread in three herds of over 100, and many of the animals are hopelessly blind and others rapidly losing their sight.

Dr. Bemis, an Ottawa veterinary, who was called to see them, can find nothing in the authorities defining the disease which in each case affects the pupil of the eye.

It may be necessary to have all the affected cattle killed to prevent the spread of the peculiar malady.

A Sweeping Decision.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

DES MOINES, Aug. 18.—Judge Woolson has handed down an opinion in the Federal Court in the case of Levy vs. the City of Newton that affects nearly every city of the second class in the State. He decides that perpetual franchises granted corporations by cities prior to the passage of the law in 1887 granting from this express authority are valid. The Newton City Council tried to revoke a franchise granted in 1887 on the ground that the old Council exceeded its power.

The Heat in Arizona.

"I have heard a good deal of complaint of the heat since I have been in Washington," said R. A. Reynolds of Yuma, Ariz. "The people of this city cannot realize how hot it gets in southwestern Arizona. Cattle die in great numbers, and it is almost impossible for human beings to live there during the summer months. Some extravagant stories are told about the effects of the heat, and I have read of frying eggs in the sand out there. Of course, they do nothing of the kind, but I know an egg story that is true that is nearly as remarkable. I was camping out on the desert, and among our provisions were some eggs. Being suspicious of their condition we did not cook them and did not happen to throw them away. Just left them in the tent. One day I heard a chirping and upon investigation found that more than half the eggs had hatched."—Washington Star.

Americans Wasteful People.

Col. Waring of the street cleaning commission in New York, has found upon investigation that material that sells on an average for $700,000,000 every year is carried to the dumps. In the first place there are thrown away 336,000 pounds of rags every week worth 60 cents per 100 pounds, an item aggregating $78,832 a year. There are besides 45,000 pounds of grease per week, worth $1.10 per 100 pounds, and figuring a value of $25,737 a year. Then there are unburned coal metals and a great variety of more or less valuable things, a part of which is intercepted by garbage pickers, but a greater portion of which is thrown into the sea. That garbage worth $700,000,000 a year should be thus thrown to the winds in a city where thousands suffer from stinted resources is a sort of prodigality that naturally startles overcrowded Europe.—Boston Globe.

THE WEATHER.

Cloudy and threatening weather continues throughout Northern California and the extreme southern portion of the State and throughout the plateau region east of the Sierra Nevadas. Scattered thunder storms occurred throughout the greater portion of this region last night and were moderately heavy in Utah and Nevada. The pressure conditions this morning are such as to indicate a continuance of showery weather in the region from San Francisco northward during today and tonight and similar conditions will probably continue east of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

FORECAST MADE AT SAN FRANCISCO FOR 36 HOURS ENDING 5 P. M. AUGUST 20, 1896.

Northern California: Generally cloudy weather with occasional showers this afternoon and in the extreme north portion tonight; Thursday partly cloudy; fresh westerly winds.

Southern California: Fair except partly cloudy this afternoon and tonight in the extreme south portion, Thursday probably fair; fresh westerly winds.

SAN FRANCISCO AND VICINITY.

Cloudy this afternoon and tonight, Thursday partly cloudy, brisk to high westerly winds.

W. H. HAMMON, Forecast Official.

WEDNESDAY.......AUGUST 19, 1896.

The Philadelphia Times, an independent Democratic paper of great ability, declares that every indication now points to a vote in November of about 700,000 for McKinley and not over 300,000 for Bryan. Unless all present signs shall prove delusive, McKinley's vote in Pennsylvania must be fully or more than 2 to 1 as against Bryan. The nomination of a true Democratic ticket will not effect the result in this State to any appreciable extent.

The latest rail road innovation has occurred in Minnesota. Over a year ago the Minneapolis, St. Paul and St. Sault Ste. Marie Road tried the plan of allowing each locomotive engineer to hire his own firemen. The plan has worked so well that the managers of the road now propose to let each conductor hire his own brakeman. Other roads, including some of the most important in the country, have been watching the plan with great interest and its general adoption is under discussion.

Just as the news come of Nansen's return without finding the North Pole, there is a report that Andree who projected the balloon voyage to the Pole will wait for another year. They have been waiting on the Island of Spitzbergen for a favorable breeze to waft them northwards, but it is has so far failed to materialize or to give promise of an early arrival. The time for a propitious voyage is rapidly ending, and, unless a start is made before the end of August, there will have to be a return to Norway, and a weary delay of about ten months before the second attempt can be made.

There is a lady living in Manchester, New Hampshire, who changes color like a chameleon, if the local reports can be believed. The color of her eyes remains brown and the hair black, but her face and hands change to suit the color of her clothes. She does not dare to wear ribbons nor any of the shades of blue, red, green or yellow. In pure white her face is ghastly, and the color of her hair and eyes makes it even more so than it would be if they were lighter. Black renders her so dark a brunette that there might be a strong suspicion that she was not of the Caucasian race. She, therefore, wears none but subdued grays and browns, which render her less noticeable. The affliction, for it is a great affliction, came upon her gradually, and is steadily growing more pronounced.

Bolting National Conventions.

The Times of Philadelphia, has been looking into the history of bolting National Conventions. There have been two distinct bolts which have defeated the regular candidates of the party. In 1848, the Buffalo Democratic Convention was composed of bolters from the Cass and Butler ticket, nominated by the regular Democratic Convention at Baltimore. It defeated Cass in every State east of the Ohio line, and elected Taylor to the Presidency. Again, in 1860, there was a bolt from the Democratic National Convention at Charleston, resulting in the nomination of two Democratic National tickets, one composed of Breckinridge and Lane, and the other of Douglas and Johnson. That bolt elected Lincoln to the Presidency.

There have been several distinct minor bolts further back in the political history of the country. That of 1824 was remarkable. The caucus candidate was Crawford of Georgia. He was defeated and John Quincy Adams was elected by the House. There was the bolt against Grant and the nomination of Greely.

The bolting convention to meet at Indianapolis is the most important since the Democratic revolt of the Van Buren Buffalo Convention. It will represent a very large element of the Democratic party, with the prospect that the cleavage will be as effective as was the Buffalo Convention.

Republicans and Woman Suffrage.

The Republican State platform favors woman suffrage. It follows that the party should do nothing to discourage that measure, but should afford all reasonable facilities for the discussion of that question. The women of California, or a large number of them, are working to secure the approval of that measure by the electors at the coming election. They have at present no votes, but they have great power to influence votes

At the recent Republican demonstration at the Macdonough Theatre in this city, representatives of the Woman's Suffrage Association asked for a representation on the platform, and for an opportunity to present their cause in a five minute speech. That was a reasonable request. For some reason, it was denied. It might have been because it was too late to change the programme. But it was a mistake both as to policy and principle, to refuse such a concession. A speech of five minutes at a Republican meeting for woman's suffrage, might well be conceded on the score of courtesy, but with still better grace as a matter of justice.

The Woman Suffragists of California have none of the usual machinery for a popular canvass. They have a number of good speakers who seek such opportunities as can be found to present their cause. The right to be heard ought not to be denied to them. The appearance of suffrage advocates on Republican platforms, will in no wise hinder the discussion of the other great issues now before the country. It is creditable to the party that its meetings are so orderly and so entirely within the limits of decorum, that women can appear upon the platform and among the audience and become thoroughly interested in all the great public questions of the day. These advocates of woman's suffrage ask nothing that is unreasonable. What is conceded in one platform ought not to be denied on any other. Give these earnest women a chance.

For the Commerce of Oakland and Alameda.

The training walls of the harbor of Oakland would have been completed before this date had it not been for the effort made to divert Government funds to the construction of a tidal canal, thus giving that work the precedence over the more important work of improving the harbor. Nearly a quarter of a million dollars were expended in excavating the tidal canal, its approaches and in constructing the iron bridge for a crossing.

Every dollar of this money ought to have gone into harbor improvements between the Webster street bridge and the designated end of the training walls. Had the money been so expended the training walls would have been completed, and the ship channel improved so far that little complaint would have been heard about any difficulties of navigation.

Citizens finally called a halt. They demanded that the Government appropriations should be expended where they would tell the most for the interests of commerce. And here it might be well to correct the impression studiously made by Dr. McLean and his friends that he was instrumental in procuring the present appropriation as a part of the continuous contract system. We do not so understand it. If he had never gone to Washington the same results would have been brought about by the California delegation in Congress. The member from this district, in conjunction with others, including Senator Perkins, secured the appropriation and are entitled to the credit of that result. Dr. McLean had not a little influence in giving out misleading information. The appropriation of public money in the wrong direction, is largely due to his leadership. Hereafter a wiser policy will prevail. The improvements of the harbor will go right on in spite of all lachrymose protestations

The Democratic Protest.

This is a year of strange political contrasts, and there are none more striking than the protest now made by the thinking and solid men in the Democratic party against the revolutionary course of the Populist wing of the party. Democrats are facing their antagonists squarely on the leading issue before the country. Bryan made his declaration of policy in New York. For some days it was a question whether he was to be taken seriously, or whether he really expected to be taken in that light. Now comes the reaction. Bourke Cockran, a leading Democrat, backed by an immense concourse at Madison Square Garden and supported by the leaders of the party, none of whom appeared at the Bryan meeting, exposed the fallicies in the speech of the latter in a masterly way. He declared in substance, that the declarations of Bryan were revolutionary, aiming in spirit to array class against class, to destroy public confidence and to make the lot of the laborer harder than it ever had been. "The man who raises his hand against the progress of the working man raises his hand against 'prosperity.'" That is an elementary truth. And it is also true that the hands of Bryan and his supporters are now raised against the prosperity of the country.

It is a noteworthy fact that while horses have been very dull of sale in this country and the prices have been very low, the sales of American horses have been very brisk in England. The London Field expresses natural surprise and alarm over the large number of American horses which, it says, it has discovered "in our midst." During the past year no less than 10,000 American horses have been sold in London alone. A large number are used for the omnibuses and street cars, but The Field adds: "The carmaster and smaller dealer profess not to touch them, the former believing, and possibly rightly, that the majority of foreign horses are somewhat soft, while, as a rule, he declares that at his price he can get plenty of well bred English horses, and that they do his work very well. The fact is, however, that there are almost as many American horses drawing cabs as American subjects riding in them. After American and Canadian horses have changed hands under the hammer they are resold without any thing being said about their nationality. They get into the country and add to the difficulties and perplexities of the breeder." The Baltimore Sun notes the

The Latest Overman Confession.

The Overman woman having made another confession, it will probably stand until she makes another. This last one does not seem to call for any revision of the public judgment. She was long ago taken to be a consummate liar and something more. That she should confirm this opinion seems to have followed as a natural sequel.

There seems to have been a mutual dropping of old associations. Brown was compelled to drop the woman on leaving the country, and the woman has dropped him. The conspiracy for black mail involved four women, every one of whom has escaped any other penalty than the notoriety associated with the offence. Such testimony as the Overman woman offers may or may not be true. But it would influence no verdict in any civil court. Has it any other value in an ecclesiastical court?

The next fashionable fad that will find favor with ladies in this country is the barefoot cure, better known as the Kneipp cure. The Baltimore Sun relates that several ladies walking though the Park in New York suggested that it would be a good thing to try the Kneipp treatment there: "The suggestion was immediately voted to be a good one and the ladies found a sequestered spot where they commenced to try the cure. The grass was long and soft, says Miss Bourgoin in relating her experience, and felt like plush to our feet. There was just enough earth moisture to keep it cool. We had soon covered several blocks of territory and found the result satisfactory. Indeed, it was simply delightful. That night I went to sleep the moment my head struck the pillow. I had been troubled with insomnia for some time and when I awakened in the morning and found that I had had a good night of uninterrupted rest, I confess I felt disposed to attribute it to the Kneipp cure. I have taken the walks many times since then, in the morning, before breakfast, and I have returned refreshed and comforted after each walk. A slight rheumatic pain on my right ankle entirely disappeared. Other friends of mine have taken my advice and, I think, if you care to take the trouble, you will find that a great many ladies hover around the park morning and evening with their shoes and stockings in their hands, while indulging in the benefits that accrue from taking the Kneipp cure."

The educational campaign it is hoped, will extend into Tennessee. The Washington Star tells of one Southern statesman who had ideas on this subject about as intelligent as those entertained by some persons today. In Unicoi county, Tennessee, there is a large district known as the Flagpond, although it is a mountainous section where there are no ponds and no flags grow. A man named Sands runs a general store and controls the votes of the district, as almost all the voters are indebted to him and let him act as political dictator. At a meeting Erwin Sands was an attentive listener, and after the speeches were over he called the free silver advocates to one side and said: "I'm in favor of this here free silver ef it's goin' to be run fair an' square, but I'm ag'in' it ef we people out here in the mountains ain't goin' to git none of it. Now, I want an understandin'. All of the people in the Flagpond deestrict will vote for it if it's all right. Now, I am postmaster out there and of course I would be the man to give it out. Now, if it carried, just how much of that free silver am I goin' to git for each man?"

death of 176 horses in that city from heat: "Nearly all the animals have died from exhaustion due to the excessive heat or from sunstroke. Many of them have dropped dead in their tracks while pulling heavily laden wagons along the streets; some have fallen along the roadsides in the suburbs while speeding along with carriages, their deaths being due to the inconsiderateness of their drivers; a number died in the veterinary hospitals after being overcome by the heat on the streets, while others succumbed to the heat in their stalls in private stables and livery stables. A great many animals have been prostrated, but have been revived by being promptly drenched with water and by the application of ice to their heads."

Here is an illustration of how love will triumph over all obstacles. A story is told in Pearson's Weekly by a lady whose privilege it was to discover how the way was found: "The young woman could not write or read writing, and one day she brought a letter to me to read for her. It contained an offer of marriage. I happened to know that the writer was a deserving young artisan, so I said to her: 'Now, you must consider this matter very seriously, and if you like to come to me when you have made up your mind, I will write a reply for you.' A day or two afterward I met the girl again and asked her if she wanted me to answer the letter for her. 'Oh, that is all right,' said she, looking radiant and pleased. 'I've settled it. I answered it myself.' 'Why, how did you do it?' I asked. And then she told me that she could make a capital 'I,' and that she stuck on the paper a piece of wool after it for 'wull'—'I wool.'"

George William Curtis had a summer residence in the town of Ashfield, among the hills of Western Massachusetts. That little town cherishes his memory. The town people have recently set up a tablet to his memory. Professor Charles Norton delivered the address on the occasion. "Of all the blessings which can befall a community," said Professor Norton, "there is none greater than the choice of it by a good man for his home, for the example of such a man sets a standard of conduct, and his influence, unconsciously not less than consciously exerted, tends to lift those who come within its circle to his own level."

Henry Watterson writing from Switzerland, defies any man or woman to get drunk on Swiss wine. He draws a broad distinction between it and the blue grass whiskey of Kentucky. The latter will make a Kentucky politician talk through his hat with amazing freedom.

LINEN'S REIGN IS OVER.

Bargain Counters Have Rung Its Death Knell.

August is a hard month for the maids who flee to the seaside early in the season. Gowns that were then so bright and fresh looking are now faded from the sun's bright glare. And to clap the climax, the "two weekers" are showering upon all the watering places in the full glory of costumes in the latest modes.

All this sends the early maid on a flying trip to the city to replenish her wardrobe, which she can do at a nominal cost. Linen suits, embroidered with blue, brown and yellow silk, are now to be bought for about $5. The skirts are made in the latest cut, the sleeves are small, and, altogether, these inexpensive suits are rather stylish in appearance.

Don't be inveigled into buying a plain linen suit, unnecessary advice, however to the woman who crosses the ferry to come to New York. When linen skirts are to be had for sixty-eight cents each, what can prevent their becoming common.

A pretty material is striped dimity, light in weight and cool. Have it made with a bolero—if you wish to be strictly up to date.

What a Parisian girl wore is worth copying. A mauve dimity striped in yellow. The skirt gored, tight fitting across the front and rather narrower than those of the early summer; a ruche of a deep mauve silk about the foot, just like the old fashioned affair; a broad belt of the silk softly laid about the waist. So the skirt is finished.

The waist of soft yellow silk muslin was partly concealed by a bolero, made with broad revers and edged with lace.

Worthy of mention are the ribbon ends which fall from the belt at the back. Truly, are we returning to the modes of former days.

ON THE FIGHTING MAST.

One of the Most Dangerous Posts on a Man-of-War When in Battle.

In that coming naval battle between the steel fleets of two first class powers to which nautical authorities have been looking forward ever since modern battleships became the mighty engines of problematical forces that they are, the military mast and fighting top will play a deadly part and be the station for danger and heroism.

As everybody knows, the old mast, the mast of yards and sails, has vanished from the modern ship of war. The Newark is the only modern ship in the United States Navy which has sail carrying masts. The place of the mast that was erected for sail carrying purposes is taken on the modern warship by a steel tower, which rises from the deck to support one, or maybe three or four circular galleries, where rapid fire or machine guns are placed, which in time of action pour their hail of bullets at the deck and ports of the hostile ship.

The object is to kill the gunners, for it is self evident that the most powerful gun is powerless if its crew is dead. Take the twenty rapid fire guns distributed along the superstructure of the Indiana. From a fighting top such a storm of lead could be driven upon these great guns as would make it impossible for men to work them. Therefor it will be one of the first duties of a warship to shoot away with its heavy guns the military mast of its adversary.

As one well directed shot will send the mast tumbling, it is not probable that any ship will come out of an engagement with its military mast standing. The shooting away of the mast will, of course, mean the death of every man in the fighting tops. Men sent there will know as they climb the dark ladder to their stations that they go to almost certain death, and will have only one duty before them, to kill as many of the enemy as they can before the crash comes.

Men who in turrets and sponsons below are handling the great guns have every hope of life and victory before them, but the men in the tops go to their duty with no such hopes and expectations. To man the fighting tops in action will be a kind of martyrdom especially hard to endure.

To perform deeds of valor in the face of contending armies, or to suffer with fortitude in the gaze of admiring thousands, is one thing; to climb up calmly inside a steel post and work away at such an unpoetical mechanical device as a rapid fire or machine gun until such time as it may please the enemy to blow one into "kingdom come" is quite another thing.

Yet the modern man-of-warsman is enthusiastic over the advantages of the military mast, and would obey an order to man a gun in the fighting top as readily as he would the bugle call which summons him to his meals.—New York Press.

Eugene Field's Love for Children.

Eugene Field was a man of generous, tender spirit and boundless sympathy. He gained and held the love of little children and of men and women, for in his writings he appealed to young and old, and every gentle nature responded to the magic of his honest verse.

He was a great lover of animals, and was constantly making pets of them. He was very fond of birds, but as he disliked to see them caged, he looked forward to the time when he could add to his new home a good conservatory, where the birds might find a home and fly in and out among the plants. After he had once become attached to a pet of any kind it was exceedingly hard for him to give it up. For several years he paid the board of two old dogs at a farm. Some of his friends thought this a foolish expense, but he said he would not have the dogs killed, as they had been faithful to him in their younger days, and he did not believe in deserting old friends. Several years ago a Jerusalem donkey was given to the Field boys, and they named it Don Caesar de Buena. After they became too old to drive with him it was a serious question what to do with "Don." For some time he was boarded at a livery stable. His board bill soon became quite a serious matter. But Mr. Field would not have him sold, for fear that the children's old comrade might fall into unkind hands. At last a friend in Kentucky offered a home for the donkey, and there he is now, spending his last days in luxurious ease on a blue grass farm.—St. Nicholas.

DOES IT PAY?

Remarkable Illustrations of Certain Valuable Investments.

Last month there was paid the estate of one of our prominent citizens $40,000 by the "Mutual Life of N. Y." on a policy he was carrying in that company.

The family in this case received all he had paid into the company and an excess of $22,180! Only a few months ago the same company paid to the estate of Joseph G. Eastland, President of the Oakland Gas Company, some $24,000—and to the estate of A. N. Towne of the S. P. R. R. some $30,000 with equally satisfactory results. Another illustration of the beneficent effects of an investment in the Old Mutual is given below:

In 1867 John P. Irish of Buffalo, N. Y., then 21 years of age, applied for an endowment policy in the "Mutual" of N. Y. for $5,000, payable to himself at the age of 50.

Last January, on reaching the age of 50, the company paid him the face of the policy	$5,000 00
With dividends added	3,323 89
Total	$8,323 89

He paid the company an annual premium of $302 80 for ten years, or $3,028, which deducted from the sum paid him left a profit of $5,295 89—as an investment he received nearly 4½ per cent compound interest.

Mr. W. E. Barnard of 458 Ninth street is the authorized agent of this marvelous financial institution—the largest in America or Europe—which disburses every month over $1,000,000 to its policy holders or their estates—over $600,000 in California alone last year, over $23,000,000! in the U. S. and other countries.

While its receipts exceeded $48,000,000, its resources exceed by millions of dollars the Bank of England. The company issues a large diversity of policies, ranging in amount from $1,000 to $100,000, on a single life. And we cordially commend the company and its agent, Mr. Barnard, to those wishing insurance — every one should carry insurance, being governed as to amount and kind by his abilities and tastes.

Friday evening the band will give a request programme, and anyone is asked to send in the titles of pieces they would like to have played and the musical director will be guided as largely as possible by these requests in selecting the numbers for the evening. Send list of selections desired to Alex. Stewart, musical director of the Exposition, at the Secretary's office.

The programme for the remainder of the week will be varied and interesting. The different suburbs of the city will prepare the entertainment for Thursday and Friday evenings.

Thursday evening the residents of West Oakland will present a cantata entitled "Flowers and Grasses." Twenty young ladies will participate. A butterfly dance will also add novelty to the programme.

East Oakland will have charge of Friday evening's programme and a programme of great interest is being prepared. Several well-known and popular East Oakland musicians will participate.

Saturday afternoon an operetta entitled "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe" will be given by a number of children. The operetta is bright and attractive. It was recently given before Clan MacDonald and was pronounced an unqualified success.

Saturday evening will be devoted to soloists, vocal and instrumental. The programme will be a most interesting one.

This will close the Exposition. It has been wonderfully successful from the opening and the directors are more than pleased with the results of their labor. Although the accounts are not balanced as yet, it is known that there will be a large sum to transfer to the Exposition fund for next year.

GOOD SHOWS ARE STAGED

"The Masqueraders" to Be Given Again This Evening.

Excellent Production of "Cad the Tomboy" at the Oakland.

"Bohemia," Clyde Fitch's clever play, was presented before an appreciative audience at the Macdonough Theater last night. The many clever hits and well-timed scenes found much favor and the evening was passed most enjoyably.

This afternoon "The Benefit of the Doubt" is being presented. It is Arthur Pinero's now three-act comedy and the big run it has enjoyed in Europe and the East has given it a prestige that is certainly well deserved. A strain of comedy involving some shrewdly drawn satirical types of English life is a strong element of the piece. The scenes are laid at the house of a Mrs. Emptage in the neighborhood of Regents Park, London, and at the Lichens, the cottage of "the man in the case," at Epsom.

Tonight the engagement of the Empire Company will close here with "The Masqueraders." It is claimed by many to be the strongest piece in their repertoire and the big reception it has obtained wherever it has been presented is the best endorsement of its merit.

THE OAKLAND.

"Cad, the Tomboy" is making a decided hit at the Oakland Theater. It is presented by a splendid cast, including Gracie Plaisted and the humor never stops for an instant. The play is full of humorous situations and genuine dramatic features and the interest does not lag from the rise to the fall of the curtain. It is one of the best plays the Oakland has had for many a day.

A LETTER TO BRYAN.

Questions of Finance That Are Hard Nuts to Crack.

Delusions That Have Arisen in the Free Coinage Talk.

The following open letter has been addressed to Bryan by the Monetary Trust of New York:

New York, August 12, 1896.

To William J. Bryan, candidate.

You come to a great city. Heretofore it has been a joyous and prosperous city, but gloom has seized upon every business circle and anxiety has come to every home since you announced your coming. We fear you. We believe you represent the worst elements in the country. By your side we see Debs, and those who thrive when laws are broken; Altgeld, and those who strive to undermine the courts upon which we have relied for protection; Coxey, and those who leave their homes to tramp about in demonstration against established institutions; Faulkner, Linn and others who preach "masses" against "classes." We shudder because such men and the principles you represent have brought desolation and devastation upon worthy people in every crisis of human history. It is not because we believe many of our citizens would naturally favor the dangerous policies you preach, but we are anxious lest misguided, honest voters, under the sting of personal misfortune, may not be able to reason through your theatrical rhetoric or look beyond your pious frontage at the demons of disaster which lurk behind you.

We realize that we are in a period of industrial depression. Those of us who have spent our lives in finance and in study of economic questions know that this depression has been world wide; that it fell alike upon those countries which are on a gold basis and upon those countries which are on a silver basis; that periods of prosperity and periods of depression have followed each other through the entire history of civilization; that such alternations arise from the effort of mankind to conquer nature and improve his condition; that periods of depression are brought about by natural causes and can only be overcome by a more careful study of the laws of nature and more careful obedience to those laws. We know that Germany, France and England have recovered from their depression, and that our own country is held back only because the dangerous principles you represent have loomed up before us.

You talk to the poor as against the rich, but you show that you do not understand the present distribution of this country's wealth. There never were so few poor people in any land as we have in this land today, and those who are poor are kept down only because of physical or mental defect. Such poor will be always with us. So also there are very few rich men in this country, and it is becoming constantly more difficult to acquire large fortunes. There has been a gigantic economic revolution in this country in favor of money saving, industrious people. The present owners of this country's wealth do not drive in the parks. They are not conspicuous. They handle pens and carry dinner pails. Such men own all the vast deposits of the savings banks; they hold ultimate grip on the life insurance companies, building and loan associations, and all other great organizations; they own the money in the trust companies; the American ownership of our railroads is in their hands. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, for example, which has helped to develop your own State, is held in such general distribution that the average to each individual is only sixty shares. They own the industrial corporations. The stock of the American Sugar Refining Company, for another example, is held in such general distribution that the average holdings are but ninety shares. The fact is, these potentates of the dinner pail own almost everything. They have grown relatively rich with more rapidity than similar people of any country in any epoch of history. Nor have such men ever before in any country received as large income as present wages yield, when compared with present cost of the necessaries of life. When you attack capital and rights of ownership, therefor, you are attacking all industrious, money saving men. As your policies have become conspicuous, they have destroyed values owned by such men in cruel manner. If national calamity should place this country in the hands of yourself and your associates, even these shrunken values would be in a large measure torn from the hands of those who have earned them to be distributed among your followers who have nothing and are nothing. You believe that this crushing decline in values has been "manipulated by brokers." Let us better inform you: Your crusades against courts, the rights of property and honest money standard have alarmed all men who have saved something and have increased the risks of purchase so that values are made vulnerable. The suffering has fallen upon humble, innocent men, scattered over the whole United States. But the money has been made by certain professional manipulators who trade upon your candidacy. They are the brigands of Wall street, and are your only followers in that locality. As it is now in Wall street, so it will be the whole country over, in the event of your election. Your associates will be the pirates, and all the innocent money savers of the country will be the victims.

You tell your deluded followers that the free coinage of silver will advance the price of wheat and other products. You are mistaken. You are not a thorough, economic student. The price of wheat is made by influences which cross each other in the middle of the ocean. Those influences are beyond the control of any one country. New fields in remote regions of the earth have been developed and transportation cheapened. In this age it is always harvest time somewhere, and the "ships that pass in the night" in perpetual competition determine the prices of all exportable commodities. You will not tell the merchants of New York that foreign countries will pay more for a cargo of wheat which comes from a silver basis country than for a similar cargo from a gold basis country. You dare not display such ignorance. The fact is, free silver coinage would not advance the price of wheat; it would simply reduce the relative value of legal money; it would take more of your adulterated money to buy things, and that adulterated money would be harder to earn.

Almost every day men come to our offices to secure funds for the development of some enterprise located in the South or West. Do you believe the South and West will be as prosperous without such additional capital? Would it not be better for the wage earners of those localities if such enterprises were established? Do you imagine that capitalists of the East or Europe will provide such funds unless assured that they will receive back money of the same grade? Where will the South and West now get the capital for such enterprises? The fact is, iconoclast Bryan, you have put the development of the South and West beyond the reach of the present generation. It will be far better for the country if you will go back to the Populists' haunts in Nebraska. You are out of your depths; you are away from your moorings; you are a financial lunatic running about with firebrands in your hands. The policies you represent have sent money out of this country for years. Do you claim that the United States does not need foreign capital at this early stage of its development? We beseech you, standing before a serious New York audience, do abandon generalities and metaphors, and grapple directly with these serious questions. From what part of the world will money come in the event your policies are inaugurated? Can you show from what source the capital will come which will establish new enterprises and give employment to our wage earners? We believe the greatest prosperity for this country can only come from marriage of foreign money with American labor. By such union our country will be rapidly developed, and abundant opportunities offered to worthy laborers to improve their condition.

The officers of the Monetary Trust are not "Republicans." They are not "Democrats." They are simply trustees for many people living in the South and West and all parts of the United States, who are striving to improve their fortunes by relying upon the good faith of the American people. We believe that this country can never be fully prosperous while Bryanism hangs threatening over us. Even your impossible candidacy has already darkened American credit, caused values of all our properties to shrink, torn the savings of a life from thousands of worthy men and caused all those who have saved something to stand mute, baffled and aghast. If your combination of evil men and ignorant men should place this Government in your hands and those of your associates, civilization itself would shrink, the nation's development would be set back a gloomy century, and all that we love and honor in this Republic would pass under eclipse.

FRANCIS D. CARLEY, President.

THE TINPLATE TROUBLE.

Indiana in the Throes of a Very Ugly Strike.

Union Men Declare Vigorous War Against All "Scab" Labor.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

ELWOOD, Ind., Aug. 19.—Today is the day set for the 1,500 striking employes of the American Tin Plate Company to apply for their positions, as individuals, and the company's scale of wages.

The union men say that no one will go back to work today, nor will non-union men be allowed to enter the factory.

The strikers have details of men on duty, six hours each, and only officers of the company are allowed to go back and forth.

The union men say they can get 5,000 men to help them within three hours.

The company is stringing electric light wires around the grounds and placing barbed wire on the fences, and will demand protection from the State and county today.

The Sheriff says he will be ready to act promptly. Reports sent out from here that the militia was asked for yesterday are without foundation.

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, has been asked to go to Elwood, when the American Tin Works will, as is announced, start up with non-union labor. M. N. Garland, Vice President of the Federation and President of the Iron and Steel Workers, will also be present.

The union men say that the great mills of the country almost unanimously have signed the old scale, and that there is neither justice nor condition that operates to put in force a 15 per cent cut in wages.

The cut, they say, will be resisted to the last, and help will be given the mill workers of Elwood by kindred organizations.

The Adjutant General said last night that no troops had been ordered to be in readiness and that it lies with the Governor to issue such an order.

THE BANKS LISTED.

Assessments on Loans and Franchises Ordered by the City.

ATTORNEYS' OPINIONS GIVEN

Arguments Advanced by Representatives of the Institutions.

WATER FRONT MATTERS UP.

A Number of Other Cases Disposed of by the Equalizers.

The City Board of Equalization held a meeting last night which if not exciting was protracted, for it was nearly midnight when the members adjourned. There were no applications for reductions disposed of Instead the advisability of adding certain property to the rolls was discussed. That property is the banks' franchises, their loans on stocks and bonds and the shares of National Bank stock The Board took matters into its own hands and despite the advice of the City Attorney instructed the City Assessor to tax all of this property.

All of the banks had one or more representatives present but W. W Garthwaite of the Oakland Bank of Savings was the first who spoke and he so clearly covered the ground on the Savings Banks loans that the other Savings Banks rested on his argument.

Mr. Garthwaite said "The County Assessor assessed the bank for loans on stocks and bonds, $187,000, franchise $4,000.

"The City Assessor omitted these from the city rolls The City Board now cites the bank to appear and show cause why these items should not be added to the roll.

"The bank admits that it has loans secured by stocks and bonds of quasi-public corporations amounting to $187,000, but claims they are not taxable

"To make our contention clear let us take a single illustration. The Gas Company owns property on the corner of Thirteenth and Clay streets which we will say is worth $187,000. Let us assume that the company owns no other property and has issued bonds secured by mortgage on this property for $100,000, and has issued stock for the remaining $87,000

"The Gas Company is a quasi-public corporation Its property is properly assessed at its full value, $187,000 without any deduction for the mortgage on the bonds, the bonds and stock being unquestionably non-taxable

"Mr. Smith owns the entire issue of bonds, $100,000, and stock, $87,000 He borrows from the bank $187,000 giving his obligation in the shape of a note (embracing a transfer to the bank of his bonds and stock) to secure the debt. He is given a low rate of interest, as the property represented by these bonds and this stock has already been assessed at $187,000, its full value

"Under Section 4, Article 13, Constitution, 'a contract or other obligation by which a debt is secured shall for the purpose of assessment and taxation be deemed and treated as an interest in the property affected thereby.'

"In our illustration the debt is $187,000. It is secured by Mr. Smith's obligation embracing the transfer of Gas bonds, stock and for all purposes of assessment this obligation must be treated as an interest in the property of the Gas Company.

"In other words for the purpose of the assessment the bank is the owner of the entire property of the Gas Company This property having already been assessed at its full value it is quite evident that if the Assessor shall assess the bank again for the same property it would be double taxation.

"It is no argument against the correctness of this reasoning to claim that by this method the bank escapes taxation on $187,000. The bank is permitted to make investments in untaxable property if it chooses

"It may invest in United States Government bonds, or it may invest in corporate stock, or it may invest in mortgage bonds of quasi-public corporations and no one will claim that to taxation

'If then the Constitution in clear language makes our loans on stocks and bonds an interest in the property of the corporations affected thereby, and as the property itself has already paid the full tax, and to tax our interest in the property in addition would be double taxation, it is evident that our investment in loans on stocks and bonds is a non-taxable investment."

The franchise, Mr Garthwaite continued, was not assessable because it gave no exclusive right. An individual or a class of individuals might rent a place next door to the bank and do the same business it did

City Attorney Peirsol's opinion was called for. He said that under the Constitution, solvent credits secured upon stocks and bonds were exempt and to assess them would be as Mr. Garthwaite said a double assessment. His view, however, on the franchise matter was different. He said that in his opinion the franchises might be assessed and to support it he read the decision in the case of the Spring Valley Water Co vs. L W Shotter

Snow attempted to question Peirsol, but Towle suggested that the banks' attorney be heard first.

Attorney Yule on behalf of the banks then argued that bank franchises were not assessable and read law to support his views

The main question of difference between the attorneys was, is a franchise property. Peirsol said that the minute the State came in and granted a right, that right became property and assessable Yule contended that the right was only such as any individual possessed and was not property of an assessable character

County Assessor Dalton's opinion was asked for He agreed with the City Attorney Peirsol on the franchise question but was still of the opinion that the solvent credits were assessable

Dalton and Yule argued for a time and the Union Savings and the Central Banks were called for A A. Moore on behalf of the former and Attorney Yule for the California Bank, the Central Bank and the Farmers and Merchants' Bank said these corporations were willing to submit their cases on the arguments already made

Brosnahan then introduced a resolution directing the City Assessor to put on the assessment the following

Farmers and Merchants' Bank, loans on stocks and bonds, $51,000, franchise, $500

California Savings and Trust Company, loans, $1,000; franchise, $500

Oakland Banks of Savings, loans, $136,750, franchise, $3000

Union Savings Bank, loans, $131,400; franchise, $1,500

Assessor Snow questioned the right of the Board to tell him how much to assess property It might, he said direct him to put it on the roll, but to value it was his prerogative

The City Attorney concurred with the statement of Snow and Brosnahan requested the clerk to cut out the figures

Manuel asked for the opinion of Attorney W. R Davis but Brosnahan suggested that the attorney was also a bank director and Davis refused to talk

Snow raised the question of assessing all franchises, saying that if legal to assess one it was illegal not to assess another and that there were perhaps 150 franchises of different kinds filed in the County Clerk's office

Dalton explained that this was the first year franchises had ever been assessed so he only tried the banks, but next year if the courts sustained the assessment he should assess all franchises

"I am not trying to jam anyone with this resolution," said Brosnahan, "but all of the banks showing up to oppose its passage makes things look as though it was good"

Manuel moved that the resolution be segregated so that the franchises might be assessed and the loans not.

The motion was lost on the following vote

Ayes—Buckland, Kaufman, Manuel, Marshall and Towle—5

Noes—Bassett, Brosnahan, Heitmann, Watkinson and Mott—5.

Absent—Dow—1

The roll was then called on the resolution

The vote stood:

Ayes—Bassett, Brosnahan, Buckland Kaufman, Towle, Watkinson and Mott—7.

Noes—Manuel, Marshall and Heitmann—3

Absent—Dow—1.

NATIONAL BANKS

The National Banks were then taken up and Attorney W. S Woods, representing them, stated that under the Federal law creating National Banks their shares of stock were not assessable until the State Legislature should designate the manner and place of their assessment. He advised the Council to wait until the next session of the Legislature at which time the proper bill would probably be passed and all trouble and expense of litigation done away with

Peirsol's opinion was asked for He said that while the stock was not assessable to the bank he believed it could be assessed to the share holder

Assessor Dalton stated that he had made arangements with Mr Bowles of the First National Bank in regard to the assessing of the stock of L G Burpee but that now Bowles had broken faith with him. "I cannot assess the stock this year," said Dalton, "but next year I will see that it gets a double assessment"

Brosnahan introduced a resolution to assess to the First National Bank 2990 shares of its stock and to L G Burpee 10 of the stock, and to C E. Palmer 1490 and to W H High 3 shares of the Union National Bank stock

The question of making a test case was discussed and Brosnahan withdrew the assessment of the 2990 shares to the First National Bank and 1490 shares to C E Palmer and the resolution as changed was unanimously adopted.

THE WATER FRONT

The City Attorney stated when the Water Front assessment matter was called up, that he had consulted with the other attorneys and they had advised that it was not proper to assess the property

The resolution striking the assessment from the rolls was unanimously adopted

It was 11 o'clock when Attorney Davis for the Oakland Water Company was given the floor to State why the assessment on the franchise should not be raised. He read law showing that the right to lay pipes for water was not a privilege but a right guaranteed by the Constitution of the State. The decision in the case of the Town of Woodland vs Stevens he also read as bearing most directly on the case

The attorney argued wholly from a legal standpoint and Assessor Dalton explained that he had assessed the franchise of the Oakland Water Company for less than the Contra Costa Company's franchise because it had only about one-half as much pipe land in the city as the Contra Costa Company has

"Now" said Brosnahan, when the arguments were over, "I move that the assessment be reduced to $1000 I made the same motion when the Contra Costa Company applied for a reduction because I believe a franchise is worth what it brings in. These franchises are not bringing in much now and the tax payers are getting the best of it. This talk about pipe is all taffy on the stick."

The motion was lost, then followed a series of four motions, one to raise the assessment to $100,000, one for it to remain at $75,000, another to reduce the Contra Costa assessment $25,000, and another to lay the matter over until tonight.

All the motions were lost, generally on votes of five to five and the matter was left as it stood.

The Whitmore-Alsop franchise was the last matter disposed of before adjournment. Heitmann charged the company with securing the franchise as a matter of speculation, with no intention of building a street railroad

Attorney Whitmore denied this but Heitmann's resolution to put the franchise on the assessment roll was unanimously carried

The Board then adjourned to meet tonight.

Accident to Edward Ludlow and Lawrence Barrett.

Last Monday evening Ed Ludlow son of W. B Ludlow, master mechanic of the Southern Pacific Company, and Lawrence Barrett were mixed up in an accident which might have resulted very seriously As it was the two young men were badly injured

On the evening Miss Ludlow and Edwin Jones were married and with the intention of obtaining a flashlight photograph of the guests, the young men prepared a pan of phosphorus and flash powder In some unaccountable manner the mixture prematurely exploded

Both boys were over it at the time and the pan struck Barrett in the head, cutting a severe gash over the eye Young Ludlow narrowly escaped having his thumb torn from his hand, but as it was the flesh between the index finger and the thumb was badly lacerated.

Dr Miller dressed the wounds and now the patients are getting along nicely.

READY FOR A RUSH.

Freshmen and Sophomores Will Soon Test Strength.

BOTH SIDES ARE POWERFUL.

Announcement of the Military Appointments by Winn.

THE SCHOOLS ALL CROWDED.

Frederick Ward Will Speak Tonight in Stiles Hall.

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—A small rush occurred yesterday morning between the freshmen and sophomores. It only lasted for a few moments, and resulted merely in a few broken canes and damaged hats. There are plenty of freshmen and they are strong, and it is more than probable that the sophomores will meet their match in "rushing" the new comers.

After drill in the afternoon it looked for a time as if another rush were imminent. The sophomores gave their taunting yell, "M.k, m.k, meouw, meouw, 1900, bow, wow, wow!" but the freshmen failed to respond. They had just come from drill and probably did not feel equal to the attack. A rush is sure to occur very soon, as both classes are longing for a tussle.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS.

Lieutenant Winn has made the following appointments of officers in the Military Department of the University: Captains—O. S. Case, Company F; R. C. Kinge, Company A; H. P. Taylor, Company E; G. W. Baner, Company D; W. A. Starr, Company G; C. A. Low, Company H; B. P. Miller, Company C, J. H. Mee, Company B; W. C. Jurgens, Signal Detachment; McNutt, Artillery.

First Lieutenants—J. D. Hatch, Company H; W. A. Everett, Company A; F. Tade, Company F; E. S. Sadler, Company D. A. L. Well, Company G; L. H. Earle, Company B; W. C. Voorsanger, Company E.

First Sergeants—A. D. Elcomini, Company E; O. T. Wedermeyer, Company D; E. R. Watson, Company C; J. N. Force, Company F; E. W. Stadtmuller, Company G, recruits; P. R. Thayer, Company H, recruits.

Staff Officers—G. L. Baily, Sergeant at Arms; L. H. Miller, Quartermaster Sergeant; N. H. Craig, Sergeant Major, First Battalion; L. T. Wagner, Sergeant Major, Second Battalion.

SCHOOLS OVERCROWDED.

The Berkeley schools are in such an overcrowded condition that it is necessary to make some arrangements in order to accommodate the children. It is probable that new rooms will be found to accommodate the increased number.

In the High School there are 238 pupils enrolled. About $300 has been received as tuition.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

Frederick Warde will give his Shakespearean reading this evening in Stiles Hall.

Instructor Winterhalter has been selected as a delegate to the State Fair to represent the State University.

The Pastor's Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church gave an entertainment last evening.

"Josh" made its appearance in the University yesterday, the outer covering being in a bright green in honor of the freshmen. It contained lots of local hits and sold rapidly.

Director Magee of the U. C. Physical Culture Department is unable to attend to his duties at present, owing to illness. Rheinhardt, manager of the football team, is making the necessary trials of strength among the freshmen.

COULDN'T BEAT IT.

How the Smart Farmer Won the Groceryman's Money.

An amusing true story is related of a farmer who came into a village grocery in one of our western states and exhibited to an admiring crowd an enormous egg, about six inches long, which was laid by one of his old hens, says the Helena (Mont.) Independent. He had packed it in cotton, and wouldn't allow any body to handle it for fear of breaking the phenomenon. The groceryman examined it with the rest, and, intending to chaff the countryman, said: "Pshaw! I've got something in the egg line that will beat that."

"I'll bet you $5 you haven't," said the countryman, getting excited.

"Take it up!" said the groceryman, and going behind the counter he brought out a wire egg-beater.

"There's something in the egg line that will beat it, I guess," said he, reaching for the stakes.

"Hold on, there," said the farmer; "let's see you beat it," and he handed it to the grocer. The latter held out his hand for it, but dropped it in surprise on the counter, where it broke two soup plates and a platter. It was iron painted white.

"Some folks think they are tarnation cute," said the farmer, as he pocketed the stakes and left, "but tain't no use buckin' against the solid facts."

The contractor will be required to comply with such regulations governing the work as the Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Public Works may provide.

Sweeping—The streets to be cleaned in the following manner: Each street or portion of street to be sprinkled by a watering cart when and where necessary; the entire surface of the roadway (unless prevented by obstructions) to be thoroughly swept from the center toward the gutters and the sweepings to be collected by hand and immediately removed from the street, and should any of the sweepings be deposited upon the sidewalks or remain in the gutters or upon the cesspool covers at the corners of the streets the same must be swept off by hand and removed at the same time as the rest of the sweepings, prior to 6 o'clock each morning, and all the work to be done to the entire satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Public Works.

The contractor will be required to report in writing to the office of the Superintendent of Streets, by 8 A. M., daily, the streets or parts of streets cleaned during the twenty-four hours preceding.

The Superintendent of Streets, or a deputy designated for that purpose, shall make examination daily of all the streets or parts of streets so reported as having been cleaned during the last preceding twenty-four hours, and if the Superintendent of Streets is satisfied with the manner in which said work has been performed, he shall enter in a book kept for that purpose the name of the streets and parts of streets, with the lineal feet in measurement of the work so accepted.

If upon such examination the Superintendent of Streets, or his deputy, shall find that the streets or parts of streets directed to be cleaned and as reported by the contractor as having been cleaned are not thoroughly swept and cleaned to his satisfaction and approval, he shall make a statement in writing of such work as has not been done to his satisfaction and deliver the same to the contractor upon the same day, and the contractor shall not be credited with the same, or allowed any payment therefor. Should the contractor feel aggrieved by reason of such action of the Superintendent of Streets, he may appeal therefrom to the Board of Public Works at their next meeting, who, after examination, may remedy and correct the action of the Superintendent of Streets, and the decision of said Board shall be final and conclusive in the matter.

If the decision of the Superintendent of Streets is sustained upon such appeal, the contractor shall forthwith proceed to clean such streets or parts of streets not cleaned as aforesaid to the satisfaction of said Superintendent of Streets. If the contractor shall fail to perform said work as aforesaid, to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets, then the Superintendent of Streets shall forthwith report such failure to perform said contract to the Board of Public Works, and after examination if it shall appear that the contractor has neglected or failed to perform all of said work, then the Board of Public Works shall terminate the contract and institute proceedings to collect the amount provided for as liquidated damages in the bond hereinafter mentioned, executed for the due performance of said work.

The contractor will be required to clean all such streets and parts of streets, as designated by the annexed schedule, and by the Superintendent of Streets, in pursuance thereof, provided that, whenever, in the judgment of the Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Public Works, inclement or rainy weather render the sweeping and cleaning of the streets inexpedient, the work shall be suspended by the contractor on notification to that effect; also provided, that when the pavement of any street, or parts of streets, becomes too much broken to be properly swept, such street, or portion thereof as may be in bad repair, shall not be swept during the time the same shall be out of repair.

The contractor will not be required to remove any sand, dirt or rubbish placed upon any street by railroad companies in the laying and repair of tracks, or by any individual or corporation engaged in laying pipes, sewers or other work, by reason of which sand, dirt or rubbish shall be deposited upon the street.

The number of miles of streets swept and cleaned during the month shall be made out at the end of each month from the book of record kept by the Superintendent of Streets, and payment made monthly therefor at the rate per mile of the accepted bid.

Terms of Bids—Bidders will state in proposals a price per mile for sweeping and cleaning the bituminized streets in accordance with specifications.

The estimated number of miles of sweeping and cleaning of the streets per month is 100 miles.

All work done to be subject to the approval of the Superintendent of Streets and to the satisfaction of the Board of Public Works.

All bids must be made upon the blank forms of the Board, which will be furnished upon application by the Secretary.

All bids must be accompanied by a check certified by some responsible bank, made payable to the order of J. W. Tompkins, Clerk of the Council, for not less than ten per cent of the proposal, which check shall be forfeited to the City of Oakland should the bidder receiving the award fail within ten days to enter into a contract and furnish a good and sufficient bond in a sum not to exceed $1000.00 for the faithful performance of the same.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the Board of Public Works.

ORDINANCE NO. —

An Ordinance to provide for the inspection of milk and dairies and dairy cows, and to regulate the sale of milk in the City of Oakland, and to prohibit and punish the disposition of unwholesome, impure or adulterated milk.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Oakland as follows:

Section I. The Board of Health of the City of Oakland is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to regulate and control the traffic in milk in said city, to provide for the inspection of milk in said city, and for the inspection of dairies and dairy cows producing milk for sale or consumption within the said city.

Section II. No milk producer or milk vendor shall after this Ordinance becomes operative, either himself or through his agents, servants or employes, offer or expose for sale or sell or deliver for sale, use or consumption within the City of Oakland, any milk, without first having obtained from the Board of Health of the City of Oakland a permit so to do, as hereinafter provided.

Section III. To procure such a permit, the applicant shall present to said Board of Health a written application, and shall state therein the name and business and residence address of applicant or applicants, the source or sources from which said applicant or applicants obtain or will obtain supplies of milk, the number of cows in the possession of such applicant, the average quantity of milk produced and the average quantity disposed of by said applicant and the manner and character of such disposition, such application to be made to the said Board of Health upon printed blanks to be provided by the Board of Health for such purpose. Such application shall further state the specific brand or business name, if any, under which said milk is to be sold, exchanged or distributed.

Section IV. If the Board of Health, upon such application, shall determine that the statements therein made are true and that the applicant does not propose selling or offering or exposing for sale or delivering or distributing any unwholesome milk as food for any human being, it shall be the duty of the Board of Health to issue without cost to said applicant a permit to bring into, sell, expose or offer for sale, exchange, deliver or distribute milk within the City of Oakland, and all such written statements required as aforesaid shall be registered in a register to be provided by the said Board of Health and kept for that purpose.

Section V. One such permit shall be required for each place of general sale or storage of milk. Such permits shall be issued only in the name of the owners of the supply of milk thus on storage or for sale, and shall for the purpose of this Ordinance be conclusive evidence of ownership. No such permits shall be sold or assigned or transferred. Such permits shall be subject at all times to revocation by said Board of Health in its discretion upon sufficient cause therefor shown, provided, however, that no such permit shall be revoked until after a hearing given by said Board of Health in the matter of the revocation of such permit after five (5) days notice in writing has been served on the owner of such permit in the manner prescribed for the service of notice by Section 1,011 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, which notice shall state the ground of complaint against such owner and the time and place where such hearing shall take place.

At least once in each year, or oftener if required, every person or persons, firm or corporation holding such a permit shall register with the said Board of Health his or their name and permit number, and shall make a written statement to said Board of Health, containing all the information required to be given by applicants for permits in their written application for permits as hereinbefore provided, and all applications for permits and all such written statements required as aforesaid shall be registered in a register to be provided by the said Board of Health and kept for that purpose.

No person or persons, firm or corporation shall sell or expose for sale or exchange or deliver or distribute within the limits of the City of Oakland, milk from any wagon or vehicle, unless such wagon or vehicle shall have exposed on both sides thereof the permit number of the person or persons, firm or corporation selling or offering or exposing for sale or distributing or exchanging such milk. Such permit number shall be painted on said wagon or vehicle in numbers not less than three inches in height, in what is known as Arabic Numerals, and shall be placed on said wagon or vehicle under the direction and according to the requirements of the said Board of Health, and in case milk is sold from cans or vessels (carried by human beings or on horseback) then the permit number of the person or persons, firm or corporation so selling or offering for sale, delivery, distribution or exchange such milk, shall be placed in a conspicuous place on such can or vessel immediately below the opening thereof, so as to be plainly apparent on superficial inspection, or if such milk is sold or exposed for sale, delivery, distribution or exchange within a store or house, or on the sidewalk of any street in this city, then such permit number shall also be constantly exposed in some conspicuous manner at the place wherever such milk is sold or kept, so as to be plainly apparent.

Yachting and Cycling Now Have the Top Hand.

FIELD DAYS ARE ARRANGED.

Baseball Is Struggling Hard to Keep Above Water.

NOTES FROM THE CLUBS.

A Review of the Athletes as Seen by the "Umpire."

The results of Saturday's yacht race have given a new stimulus to aquatic sports and several races are being spoken of.

The big trans-continental relay starts on August 24th. Local riders will cover the first district.

The Centerville Athletic Club is arranging a field day to take place August 29th.

Football is now the talk among college men and as coaches for the two universities have been engaged, work on the gridiron will soon commence.

THE UMPIRE.

The football talk is now being revived in earnest. Both the Stanford and U. C. boys are actively at work arranging their teams and as the coaches have already been announced it is now only a question of time before the gridiron will see the pig-skin again.

Both teams have lost several good men, though the U. C. still has Hutchinson, Selfridge, Kennedy, Sherman and Ransome. Stanford keeps Williams, Carle, Tickert, Cotton, Jeffs and Dole.

There are many good men to select from and it is expected to put better teams in the field than were in evidence last year.

The practice at Berkeley will commence on September 15th, though not until early August will the Stanford boys don their sweaters.

The big game is to be played as usual on Thanksgiving Day and will without doubt, prove the same drawing card as of yore.

* * *

The fact that the Oaklands (Acme) were beaten by a score of 19 to 7 in last Sunday's game is a matter of much surprise to many. The boys showed lack of practice and have seldom put up such a miserable game.

The club has been considerably weakened by the loss of Donovan and O'Neil, but the principal defect in the playing seems to be carelessness and a lack of generalship.

It might be well for the boys to get together during the week days and do a little practice on the side.

From the looks of the batting record last week there is room for much improvement in this direction also, unless, indeed, Iberg has developed into a phenomenal pitcher of a sudden.

The result of Saturday's yacht race was highly satisfactory to the Alameda boys, who so successfully sailed the "Fawn" to victory. This is the second time the Challenge Cup has come to this side of the bay and it is all the more agreeable from the fact that the San Franciscans had boasted so much of their prowess.

Next year the yachtsmen from the other side of the bay will leave no stone unturned to bring back their former glory and the races promise to form an important feature of aquatic events in the future.

The victorious crew is James Rosseter, captain; J. A. Landsberger, Ed Holmes, L. Ward, G. Dellman and G. Leonard.

Last Saturday the Neel brothers again covered themselves all over with glory in the East. The clever tennis players won the all comers' double match, East vs. West, in five of the most exciting sets ever seen in the history of tennis.

The Oakland boys never put up a better game and indeed the best licks were called for, for they were matched against the former invincibles, Hobart and Hovey.

The game took place at Narragansett Pier and now the two Neels stand at the head of the tennis players in the United States.

Both boys obtained their early education in the game on the little court of the Oakland High School some five or six years ago. They have steadily worked their way forward until now the top rung of the ladder has been reached.

The Examiner-Journal transcontinental relay ride will start August 25th at 4 o'clock in the afternoon from Market street and Grant avenue. The first riders are George and Clothilde Devanny, two little children, who will carry the packet to the ferry, where D. White will take it across the bay on a special boat. On this side Allan Jones, the crack Olympic rider will carry the message to High street, paced by a triplet. Here Frank Byrnes and G. M. Hamlin will cover the next ten miles, each riding half the distance.

Yoemen of the Reliance Club picks up the route at this points and from there on W. J. Black takes it over the county line. Other riders carry it on until New York is reached.

This is the longest relay ever planned in the world and it is expected New York will be reached in twelve days.

The trans-continental relay is fashioned on these lines, riders being ready at irregular intervals from here to New York. They take the packet at any hour of the day or night and under any condition of weather and hurry it on to General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the United States Army. The couriers en route will thus be in the Government service and under its protection during their ride.

James J. Corbett is in New York where he arrived last Sunday. He will go to Asbury Park the last of the week to train for the fight with Sharkey, which he anticipates will take place in October.

In an interview Corbett is quoted as saying:

"The reports that I was not in good condition when I met Sharkey are all wrong. I was never in better health and condition. Sharkey is a great, big strong fellow and it will take a man in perfect trim to whip him in a finish fight, and I am going to do it."

"It would certainly not be to my interest to decry this fellow's pugilistic ability," exclaimed the conquerer of the once great John L. Sullivan, "and it would surely be unfair to say he is anything but a cold turkey proposition. He's an original sort of a fellow, knows very little about rules, but seems to have a most extraordinary fondness for getting punished on the jaw. I really believe it's fun for him, just as it is for some fellows to punch the other fellow. I think I can take all the fight out of him. I'm here to try and straighten things out for a fight. We're matched, you know, and I'm anxious to get into shape right away."

"Have you any idea where the fight will take place?" was asked.

"Any old place will suit me," Corbett replied, "and I don't care how soon it is brought about. My desire is to show the American people that I am not the 'has been' my San Francisco friends have painted me.

"Wait till Sharkey gets here," was his parting shot. "He'll astonish the town, take my word for it."

The question whether wheelmen should take any active part in the coming political struggle is a nice one and it is causing the leaders in the cycling world a lot of worry. The officials of the League of American Wheelmen have given the mater much thought and they have decided as an organization to keep their hands off. They don't care and it would not make any difference if they did, what the L. A. W. members do as individuals. While the National organization will remain passive, no one need be surprised to see local L. A. W. and even State Divisions get mixed in the political broil. Political bicycle parades will very likely be a lively feature of the campaign and the sound money as well as the silverites are already working up this end of the game. No one has ever mentioned base ball or the horse in politics which seems to show that the wind is blowing pretty strongly in the direction of the bicycle.

* * *

Many of the saddles now in use are made of terribly hard leather. A good way to soften them is to detach them from the L pin, turn upside down and sprinkle the under surface with a fair amount of unboiled linseed oil to be bought at any paint shop. If this is objected to upon the score of possibly soiling the knickers, or if the cyclist be away from home, here is an alternative measure. Buy a common tallow candle, place it in the sun until quite soft, then smear the under part of the leather, and again stand in the sun or before a fire until it soaks in. The leather will be rendered soft and pliable and not the slightest stain will be observed.

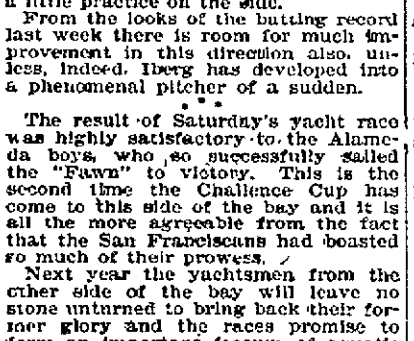

* * *

It is a general axiom in adjusting to have too loose rather than too tight a bearing. Wheels should spin freely and the valve weight should rock them to and fro for many minutes. Mere lifting of the machine ought to set the wheels moving unless the valves happen to be exactly at the bottom of the wheels. A little side play in bearings is not harmful, but a tightened bearing may jamb or fire, and is at any rate very hard to drive. Careless cyclists would do well to remember that inattention to the cleaning and lubricating of their machine greatly shorten its life. Of course everyone knows this, but many proceed as though they did not.

The meet to be held at Central Park next Saturday afternoon will probably be the last to be held there, as the track must be removed the latter part of this month to make room for a circus. The meet is being managed by Captain Walter B. Fawcett of the Olympic Club Wheelmen, and he has the support of all the cycling clubs and the Cycle Board of Trade.

CAMP ACME.

The Bicycle Boys Are Having a Large Time on Gualala River.

The Acme cyclers, who left Oakland a week ago Saturday are enjoying themselves immensely on the Gualala River. The boys left on a combination cycling and camping trip. In the party are A. P. Swain, E. W. Decker, J. W. Otey, A. H. Agnew, C. McDonald, J. W. Bird, A. L. Bedbury and W. Kimball.

The following letter from Captain Al Swain is interesting:

CAMP ACME,
North Forks Gualala River,
August 13, 1896.

Editor Tribune—Sir: As I am staying in camp this afternoon with nothing special to do I will drop you a few lines and tell you about our trip.

We left San Francisco on Saturday morning last and took the train to San Rafael, where our ride began. From there to Petaluma the roads were very fair and the twenty-four miles were ridden in something less than two hours. There we laid over a couple of hours and had lunch, then we journeyed on to Santa Rosa, sixteen miles away, with roads getting a little worse. At Santa Rosa we again ate lunch, with several watermelons and after calling on some of our fellow riders of that fair town, including Captain Ramage, Noonan and several others, started on to Healdsburg.

For five miles the roads are watered and in elegant condition, but after that they become almost unrideable and each one of us had one or more falls to his credit, generally more.

Everything had as well as good has an ending, and this was true with us, for we at last came to our destination. Healdsburg is a very pretty little town with many hospitable people and pretty girls. We stayed one day there and spent the Sabbath resting for the ride of the next day.

On Monday we loaded our camping apparatus, which we had shipped to Healdsburg by train, on our wagon and started on our trip in earnest. Our driver was a meek, quiet little old countryman with the fierce sounding name of Wolf. This goes to show that nature sometimes acts by contraries, especially in the naming of her children.

We stopped for lunch at Skaggs' Springs, where we found that a dozen loaves of bread and some sundries for eating had been lost from the wagon, (the Wolf had been sleeping.)

After luncheon we rode on and camped for the night at a place called the Summit, though what it is the summit of we could not find out, as it was surely not the summit of the hill, as was shown the next morning when we expected to have a good ride down hill, but instead had a long walk up hill.

With an early start and fine roads for a long way, we enjoyed the morning to the utmost. From the mountain tops we could see the ocean and with the reflection of the rising sun on the water, it made a sight never to be forgotten.

After riding five or six miles over excellent roads we came across four or five eight and ten-horse teams, hauling tan bark, which is brought down by about thirty burros from the mountains. It is a strange sight to see a little mule about as large as a good-sized New Foundland dog, carrying a load of bark about three times its size. We almost caused a stampede when the mules saw our eight red sweaters and the profane language used by the drivers was something terrible to hear.

From this place on the roads were very badly cut up by the bark teams, and all the way in to the little town of Stewart's Point were almost unrideable, owing to a big grade that had to be walked both up and down. We had to wait a long time for our wagon, and when it finally came we rode on to the town of Gualala and then up the river several miles to the forks, where we have our permanent camp located.

The hunting and fishing is unsurpassed and the camp is always plentifully supplied with fish and small game, though no deer have yet been brought in.

We have a very beautiful spot for a camp, close to the river and here we will be pleased to entertain any of our friends who may come to visit us.

BREAKING BLUE ROCKS.

The Gun Club Members Have a Lively Day at Alameda.

Alameda Point was alive with sportsmen Sunday and the tame blue-rocks were smashed right and left. The Lincoln, Golden Gate and Reliance Gun Clubs each held shoots.

The Reliance boys shot a thirty-bird match to classify for the medal shoot to be held on Sunday, September 20th. The scores were: Olsen 19, Horsey 22, Young 26, Jones 27, Baker 26, Stewart 26, Coffin, 23, Ingalls 23, Gross 25, Olsen 24, Baker 25, Stewart 21, Coffin 27, Williams 22, Urquhred 20, Huntley 21, Baker 26, Stewart 21, Klemenbroick 12, Brown 8, Tubbs 26, Arlett 20, Ingalls 25, Kellerson 21.

The second match for the 5-cent medal was won by G. Gross after tying Ingalls. The scores were: Coffin 13, G. Gross 13, Huntley 16, Trombone 17, Umphred 15, Olsen 15, Arlett 15, Tubbs 14, Ingalls 13, Young 14, Baker 15, Goodwin 11, Klemenbroick 12, Eustice 11, Wesley 12, Young 12, Williams 14.

The club will give a merchandise shoot on September 6th.

STANFORD'S COACH.

H. P. Cross of Yale Will Direct the Team Work.

The Stanford boys made a good selection when they engaged H. P. Cross of Yale to coach the football team this year. He will arrive in October and commence his labors at once.

Coacher Cross is only 22 years old. His home is in New York City. He has always been one of those few football players who stand at the top of their classes. He has made a great record for himself in the field as well as on the gridiron. He and W. O. Hickok, the champion hammer tosser of '95, were the invincible team that always scored first and second places for Yale in the intercollegiate Mott Haven games.

There is considerable speculation as to why Walter Camp should have selected a man who had only played a regular varsity through one season. But from what can be learned, it seems that Cross is a master at his position and also a good teacher. He is a natural born coach, and as Captain Tickert of the Stanford team plays on the line it is thought that Mr. Camp decided this would be the best selection he could make.

Entries are coming in from all sides and the day will be a big one for the country folk.

Howe Happy.

Judge Ellsworth has excused David Howe from the trial jury for this term of the Superior Court. Howe showed that he had been given employment in the ship joiner business at the Navy Yard at Mare Island. He said that he had served in the Mexican War and the War of the Rebellion, and that when an old soldier or sailor applied for work at the Navy Yard he was always given the preference, no matter how many other applicants who had not saved their country were on the list before them.

OAKLAND'S BOOMERS

The Merchants' Exchange Has the Right Kind of Spirit.

ONE GOOD ROAD ASSURED.

Resolutions Endorsing the Contra Costa Route Matter.

NOW FOR TELEGRAPH AVENUE.

A Strong Appeal to Be Made to the City Council.

The regular weekly meeting of the directors of the Merchants' Exchange was held last night in the rooms of the Exchange in the Central Bank building.

The meeting was called to order at 8:20 with Vice-President G. W. Arper in the chair. There were present Directors Witcher, Gier, Cushing, Brown, Sinclair, Boyer, Farwell, Meese, Sohst and Tum Suden.

Secretary Webb Pearce read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, The business community of Oakland has for a great many years realized the necessity of a good road, of easy grade, between Oakland and Contra Costa County, so as to permit of the marketing of the products of that county in this city; and

Whereas, The Contra Costa Road Committee, consisting of Messrs. D. C. Brown, G. B. Daniels, Wilbur Walker, J. F. W. Sohst, J. S. Wixson and W. V. Witcher, appointed by this Exchange, has, with the valuable assistance of other public-spirited citizens, succeeded in securing the laying out of such a thoroughfare; therefor,

"Resolved, That the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland does hereby extend a vote of thanks to Supervisors W. S. Pelouse, J. R. Talcott, W. H. Church, J. E. Johnson and Hiram Bailey, County Engineer George L. Nusbaumer, W. J. Dingee, H. M. Tum Suden, J. H. Medau, and the Oakland Water Company for valuable assistance rendered by them to said committee; and be it further

"Resolved, That a special vote of thanks be extended to the members of said Contra Costa Road Committee for the untiring energy displayed by them in accomplishing so much for the business interests of the city of Oakland and Alameda County.

"GEORGE L. FISH,
"F. SINCLAIR,
"J. F. W. SOHST,
"Committee."

President Witcher then reported that the committee of three on arrangements for the "spread" which was to have taken place last night had decided to postpone the same indefinitely, owing to the absence of many business men from the city, as also because of the continuance of the Exposition, which is now in progress in this city and the many political meetings which are being held at this time.

Chairman Arper said he had heard from the United States engineer who is supervising the improvement of Oakland harbor, and that that engineer, Col. Suter, had reported to his superior in Washington in favor of completing Oakland harbor to a uniform depth of twenty feet at low water, before touching the tidal canal.

Treasurer Cushing asked to have the secretary draw warrants on him for the money due the bands that have been giving open air concerts on Friday evenings. This, he said, would be necessary in order for him to balance his books. He also stated that $251.50 had been paid out for such purposes thus far. The secretary was ordered to comply with Mr. Cushing's request.

On motion of Director Sohst a committee of three comprising Directors Brown, Sohst and Sinclair, was appointed to go before the City Council and ask to have Telegraph avenue repaired.

Mr. Sohst in support of his motion, said that the paving of Telegraph avenue is so broken and rough that farmers coming over the new Contra Costa road know when they get into the city because of the contrast between the surface of the roadway and the level thoroughfares beyond.

"The Council," he said, "has seen fit to cut the salaries of many of the city's employes, and, maybe, there will be enough money now to improve the avenue a bit. If an individual were to go before the Council, to speak on the subject of better pavements no attention would be paid to him. But, if the Merchants' Exchange should take the matter up the Council would certainly lend an attentive ear.

"The holes in Telegraph avenue," he continued, "have been counted and measured three times at great expense to the city. It would cost only 10 cents a square foot to bituminize the street."

Director Sohst went on to say that there were too many tax-eaters at the City Hall, that every official had to have "a rig," and that every official's assistant had to have one, too. One man, he declared, who had nothing to do but go around and examine the crossings had put in a bill of $9 every month for bicycle hire.

"When Grant was here," he concluded, "he remarked that, in all his travels, he had not seen prettier streets than we had then right here in Oakland. That was when we had the old charter. He couldn't say it now."

The meeting then adjourned till next Tuesday night.

A NOBLE CAUSE.

The East Oakland Free Kindergarten has again opened its doors to a group of expectant little ones after the summer vacation. There are forty-six enrolled, and under the able management of the teacher, Miss Rust, the children make good progress. Friends are invited to visit the school at Fourteenth street and Fifteenth avenue between 9 and 12.

Sued for Cruelty.

F. Otello, the Italian groceryman, who last week unmercifully beat Teresa Bacciferi, a mere child, has been sued in Judge Clift's court for $200 damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the cruelty. W. H. H. Gentry was appointed guardian for the purposes of the suit.

A RASCALLY TRICK.

A Confidence Dodge That Brought Mourning to a Home.

The police are looking for an entirely new kind of confidence man, who fleeced Conductor Baker of the Grove street line out of a small sum.

The stranger introduced himself to Baker as a Marin County farmer, and stated that he and the conductor had lived in the same Canadian village. As Baker came from the town which was mentioned he readily took in the stranger's story that his (Baker's) father had died recently and the relatives, not knowing the son's exact address, had sent a box of goods to the Marin County farmer, who, by the way, explained that he corresponded with his old home. The box, the stranger further added, was to be delivered to Baker and that he would forward it. Incidentally he mentioned that he had paid $2.50 as expressage. Baker of course paid the $2.50 and went home to mourn the loss of his parent. The box did not come, and an investigation showed that the money was all the conductor had cause to mourn for.
